This Amendment #7 is raised to provide the following clarifications:

- Q1. Can you explain why British Columbia RFP's for Pacific-Matsqui (PW-$PWY-005-6659) and Mission-Kent (PW-$PWY-005-6661) are 50 pages (both were revised from 30 to 50 pages under Amendment 2 for both RFPs) and Edmonton Max. Security (PW-$PWU-909-9348) is only 20 pages. All 4 RFP's request the same information.
- A1. Per the SRE details, the page count for the Edmonton Technical Portion does not include the Design Proposal, to eliminate confusion over page equivalence for drawings and sections.
- Q2. Pacific-Matsqui (PW-$PWY-005-6659) and Mission-Kent (PW-$PWY-005-6661) state that there should be a response to item 3.2.6 Energy Consumption - this item does not appear under the 'Evaluation Criteria Table' ? Within the Edmonton Max. Security (PW-$PWU-909-9348) RFP's they do not include item 3.2.6. Is this correct?
- A2. Energy performance is stipulated in the Turnkey Project Manual and is not evaluated in the design proposals for the Edmonton Maximum Security Institution project.
- Q3. Within the Alberta RFP's - they request that Mandatory Annex Forms be included Annex D: Team Identification Form and Annex E: Declaration Form be included for Edmonton Max. Security (PW-$PWU-909-9348) RFP's. Are these to be included with the Technical Portion and I assume they do not form part of the max. page count. With the British Columbia RFP's these Annex forms are not requested - can you confirm if they should be.
- A3. Annex D - Team Identification Form and Annex E - Declaration form are mandatory requirements as stated in the RFP and are to be submitted with the Technical Portion. These Annex's do not form part of the page limitation as noted in the RFP under the bullet "Bidder Identification, Certifications and Bid Security.
- Q4. Please confirm names of incumbent Controls and Sprinkler companies within the existing facilities.
- A4. These are stand alone buildings. The existing BMS Controls and Fire Alarm companies are stipulated in the Site Specific Requirements for each site.
