Amendment 001 is raised to answer the following questions:

Question 1: What area of expertise is the consulting needed for?

Answer to Question 1: The consultant services required are in the domain of Occupational Health and Safety- the review of a federal department's safety management system and the provision of advice, certain deliverables, and recommendations.

Question 2: Under scope on page 18 there is indication that expenses are not covered for this project. Are we interpreting this correctly that the only re-numeration will be labour fees? Would like to confirm that successful bidder will not be able to claim expenses such as mileage, airfare, hotel etc.?

Answer to Question 2: The basis of payment is based on a fixed price for the totality of the work and thus a bidder will need to include their projected expenses (including travel expenses) in their fixed price.

Question 3: Has a proposal (draft or other) already been submitted by a consultant for this work or discussions of scope etc. of this project occurred with a consultant as described in this solicitation?

Answer to Question 3: No consultant has been previously contacted to develop a draft proposal and no prior discussions with consultants have occurred regarding scope of the project
