This Amendment has been raised to address questions from bidders:

Question 1: Given there is a wide variety of interior layouts within the LAVIII/Stryker family of vehicles, not to mention similar vehicles, will Canada allow interested bidders to survey the subject vehicle, prior to bid submission, to determine that the form and fit of the proposed system is compatible with the subject vehicle.

Answer: Department of National Defence will not be allowing bidders to survey the vehicle, as the vehicle will not be on site until August, at which time it will be fully occupied in field trials. The driver seat is just a normal seat, there is nothing attached to the gas/brake pedals so there is nothing unusual about the areas that will be used for the remotes installation.

Question 2: Can DRDC identify the maximum level of funding associated with this requirement?

Answer: No, this information will not be made available.

ALL OTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS REMAIN THE SAME
