Solicitation Amendment No. 1

The following amendment is raised to post questions and answers (Q & A's):

Question 1:

What are the minimum and maximum dimensions of the objects?

Answer 1:

No minimum or maximum was specified as we do not have control over the types of objects submitted for examination.

Question 2:

What is your intended throughput (objects inspected per hour or per day)?

Answer 2:

No intended throughput was specified due to the variety and complexity of the items to be x-rayed. This is not intended for high throughput as might be seen in industrial and/or manufacturing situations.

Question 3:

How thick is the paper, and how much is the deviation in thickness to be identified?

Answer 3:

Paper and substrate thicknesses vary, and the radiographic density of the materials will also vary. As in the Statement of Requirement the system must be able to provide a radiograph of watermarks and/or laid paper lines on documents among other requirements.

Question 4:

What size are the impurities?

Answer 4:

The size of the impurities will vary depending on the type of substrate and/or object. Small impurities will be in the order of 1 mm or smaller.

Question 5:

Have the object already been x-rayed?

Answer 5:

No, we do not have other x-ray equipment in the Forensic Document Examination Section.

Question 6:

What exactly do you mean by "self-contained"?

Answer 6:

This refers to the x-ray tube, shielding and detector in a cabinet structure with safety interlocks integral to the system.

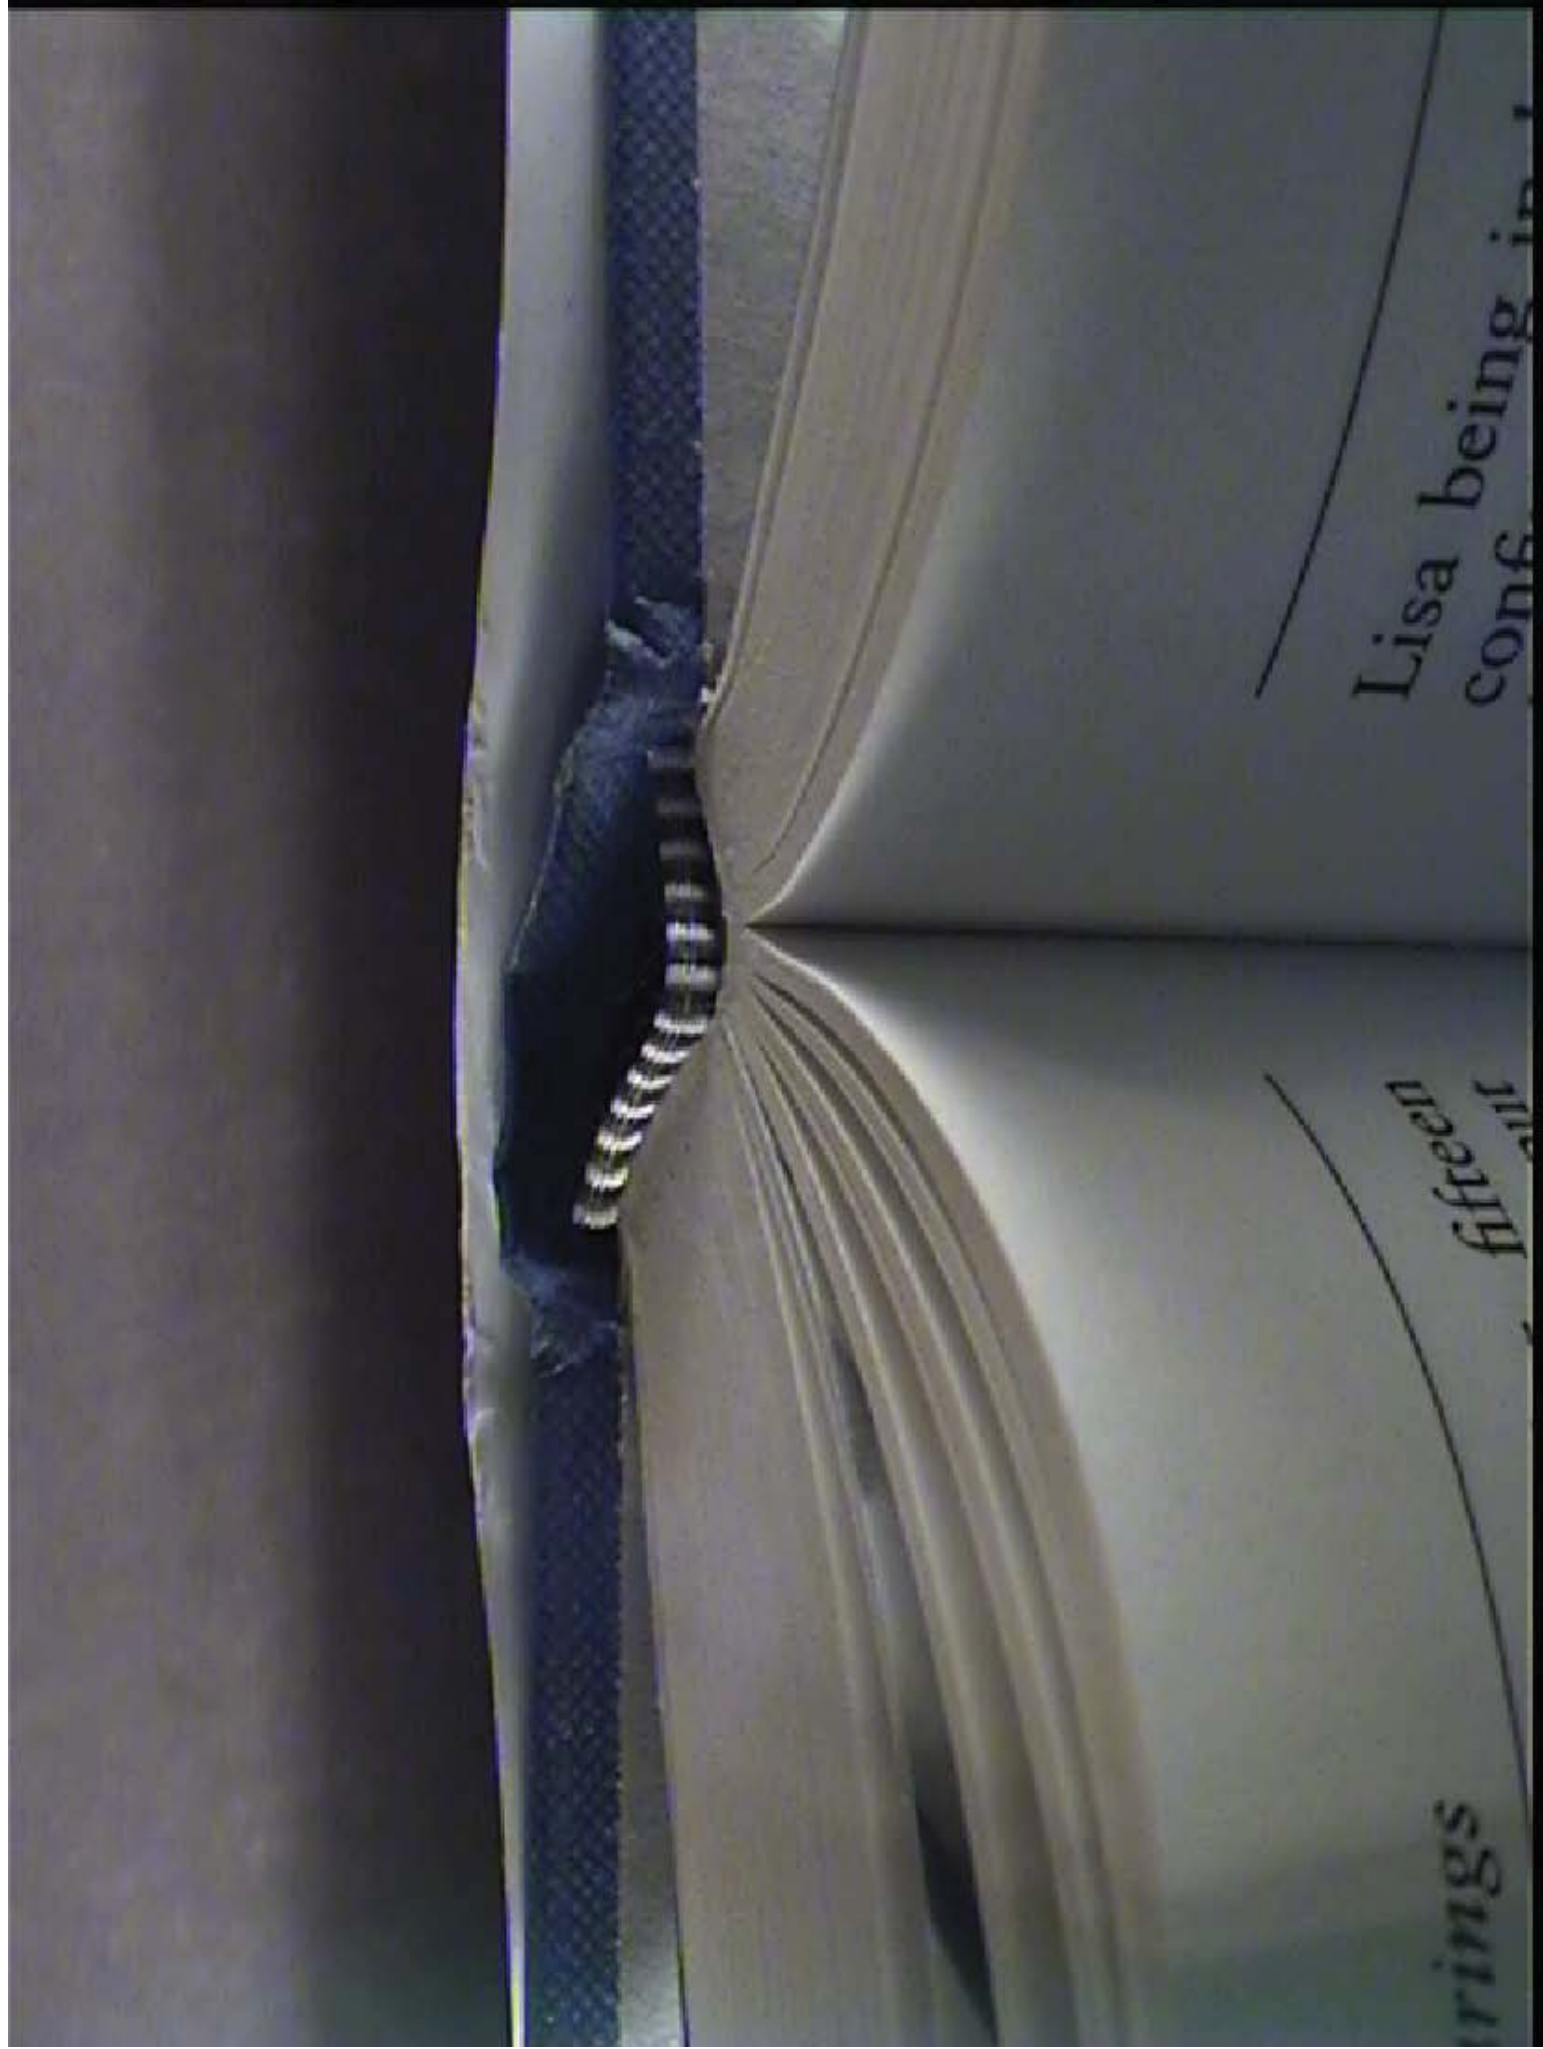

Question 7:

Can you send us some pictures of the samples?

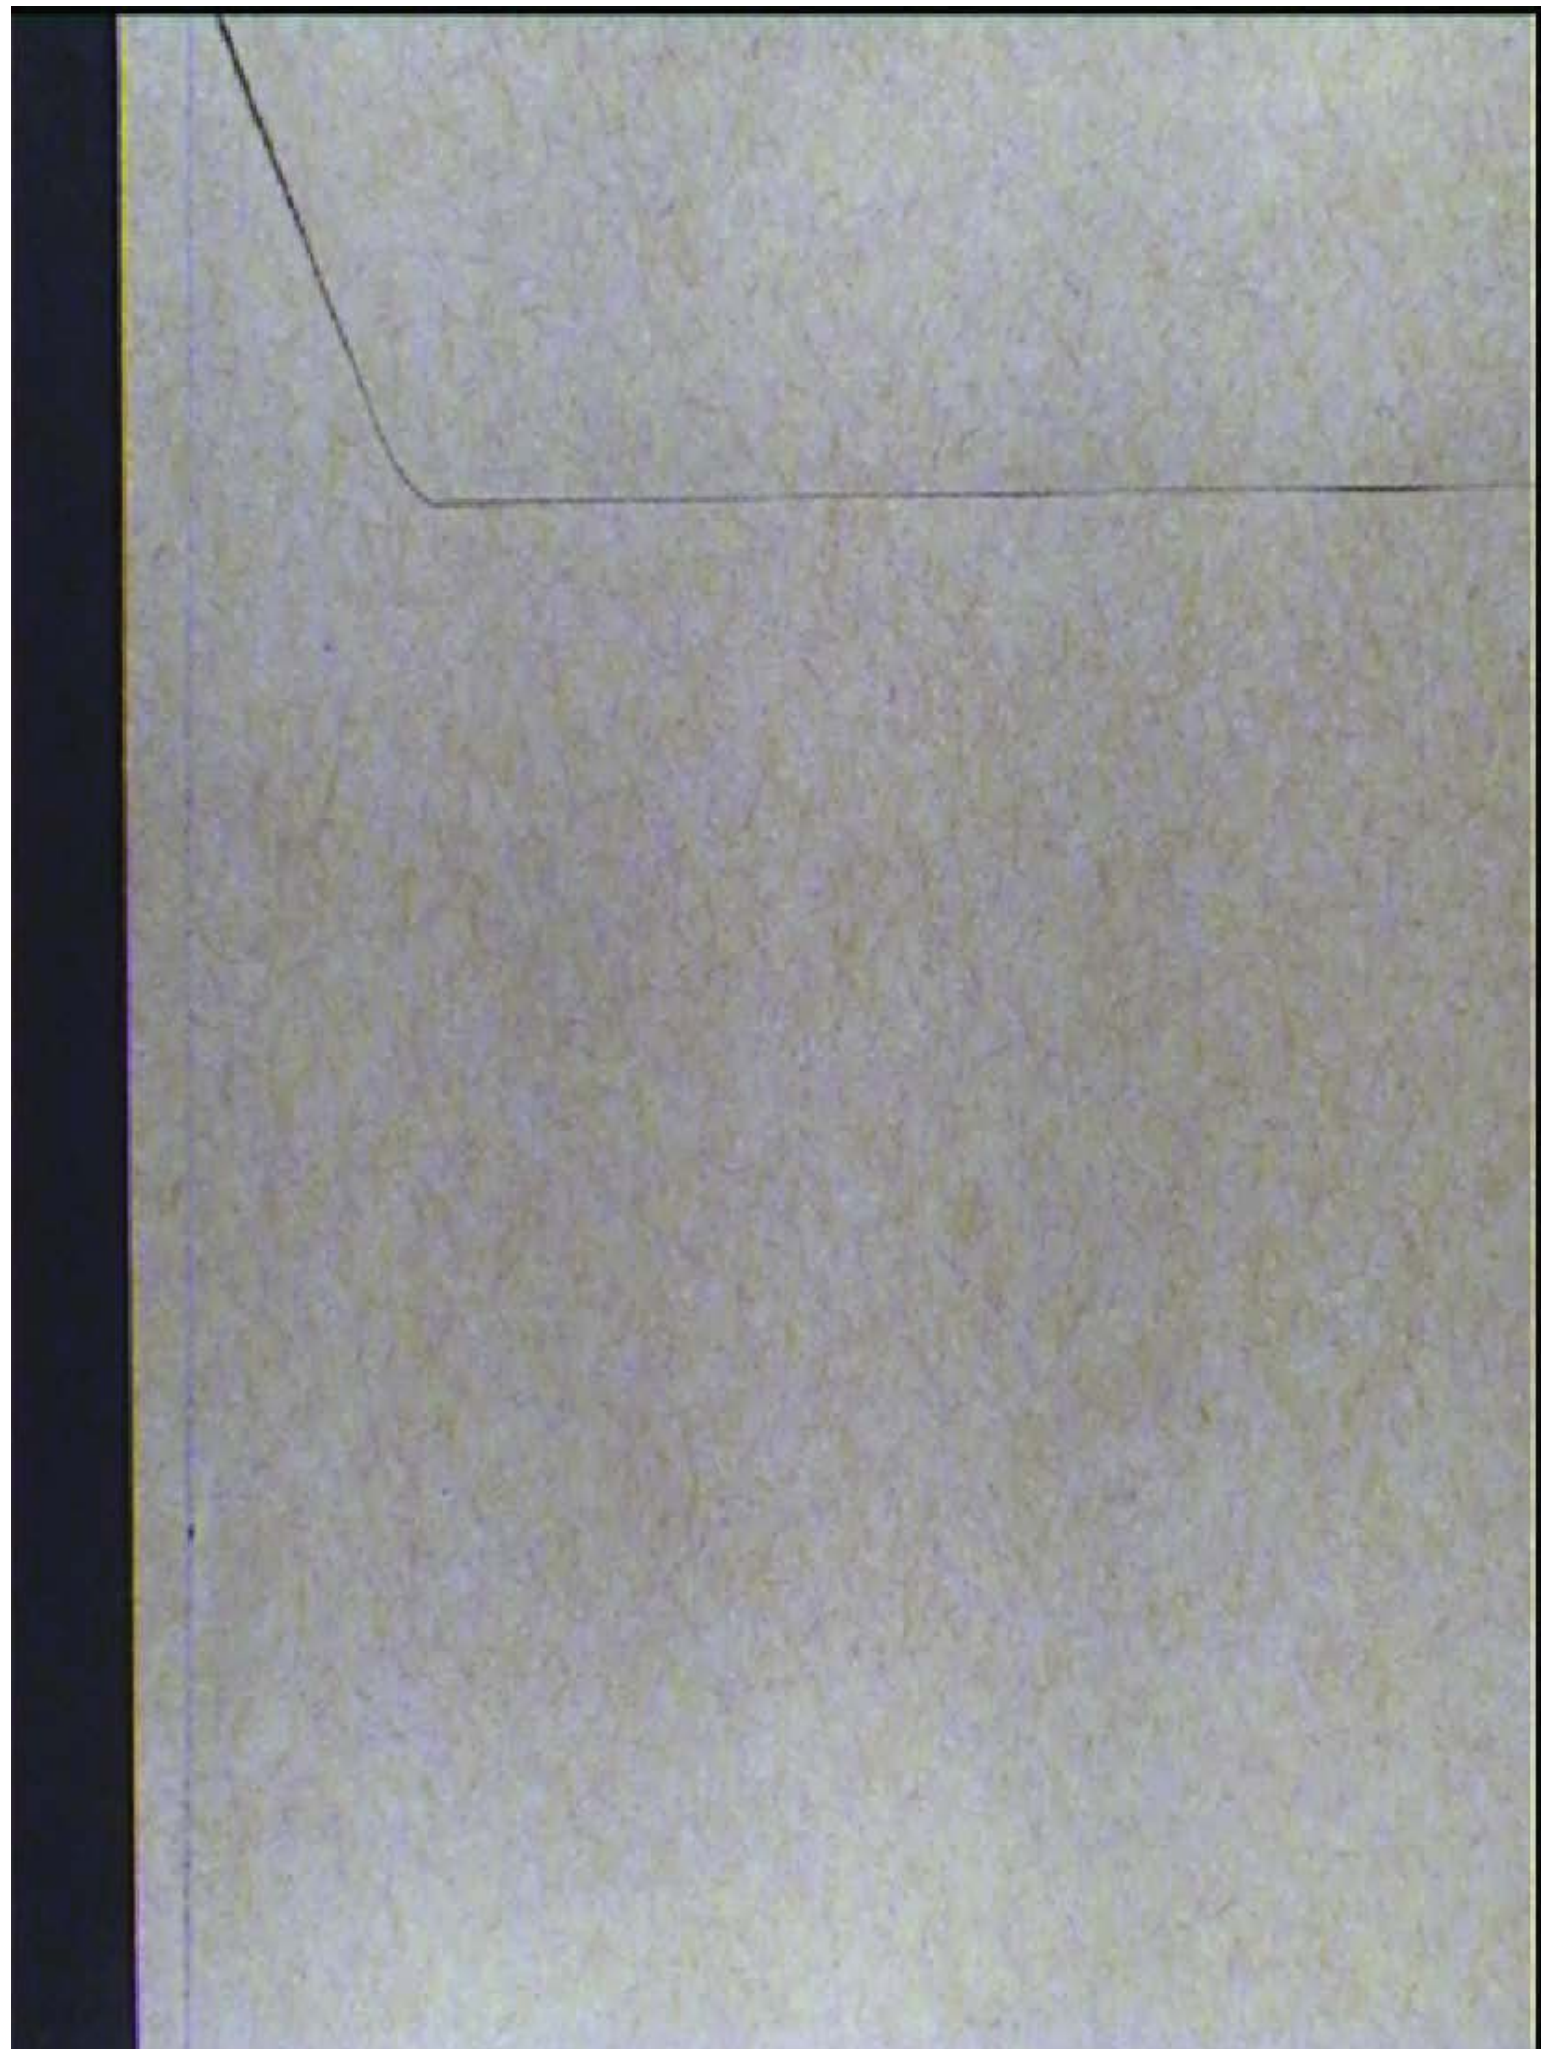

Answer 7:

Attached are examples. Bear in mind that these are only representative of the types of items that may be encountered.
