Section 3
STATEMENT OF WORK

Title: Infectious Salmon Anaemia (ISA)
Disposal

Background:

The Canadian Food Inspection Agency (CFIA or "Agency") is mandated by the Minister of Agriculture and Agri-Food to respond to incursions of foreign animal disease (FAD) into Canada. Outbreaks of the most serious of these diseases could cost Canada's livestock industry billions of dollars in lost production, the loss of international markets through export embargoes, collateral damage, and the costs of control and response activities.

The Health of Animals Act addresses diseases and toxic substances that may affect animals or be transmitted by animals to persons, and the protection of animals. The purpose of the Act and the Health of Animal Regulations is to prevent the introduction and spread of communicable diseases in Canada. The Act provides, among other things, for the importation and exportation of animals, the control of infected places, and the regulation of animal transportation.

Canada is the 5th largest seafood exporter in the world, 80% of wild and farmed production is exported, aquatic animal exports generate approximately $4B annually. Early detection of disease incursions that could have an impact on Canada's resource base, or trade (national, international), Maintaining Canada's aquatic animal health status for exports, Preventing spread of regionally located diseases.

Objective:

- For the disposal of infected salmon related to infectious salmon anaemia.
- The contract shall be guided by the Standard Operating Procedures provided by the contractor and approved by CFIA.
- The contractor will be required to ensure all municipal, provincial, and federal requirements are adhered to.

Scope of Work:

- Disposal of infected salmon in a bio-secure fashion from aquaculture sites located in various isolated communities in Newfoundland. The biomass is expected to be between 1300 and 1700 metric tonnes.
- Develop Standard Operational Procedures (SOP's) for each element of the scope of work. All SOP's must be pre-approved by CFIA prior to implementation.

- Disposal of the infected salmon must be done in a method that will minimize the potential for spread of the virus.
- Potential suitable disposal options may include: rendering, landfill disposal, processing, composting, or any other methods deemed acceptable by CFIA and other regulatory authorities. Infectious salmon anaemia virus (ISAV) exposed finfish can be processed for human consumption only if the risk of spread of ISAV into a non-infected area during the transport and slaughtering process will be negligible.

Constraints:

- Limited to incidents that occur within the territorial waters of Newfoundland.
- Preparing and providing Standard Operating Procedures that will be approved by CFIA. SOP's can be point form but must be specific – exactly indicating what you are going to do for this particular procedure, and how.
- CFIA will provide oversight; including;
 - Authorizing the removal of any seal or other device affixed to a conveyance.
 - Providing technical advice for the disposal of aquatic animals, aquatic animal products, and by-products.
 - Providing a Site Coordinator and supporting staff for overseeing and verifying company's' SOP's to ensure the contractor is in compliance with the approved method.

Meeting:

- During the incident, On-site co-location of staff, (CFIA, Industry, and Other Government Departments) is on an ongoing basis. Regular daily meetings are expected to take place between all involved parties for daily decision making.

Output/Deliverables:

- Disposal should proceed as quickly as possible in a biosecure manner;
- Provide weight data of salmon at harvest/disposal site;
- To complete the work in the required timeframes;
- Provide CFIA with verification of final completion including any indicated records identified in SOP's as well as company records kept at site including weight records.
