This amendment 001 is raised to provide a response to a supplier enquiry. The question and response are provided as follows:

=====
Question: The system is required to be capable of interfacing with Motorola EX 600 XLS portable radios. What information will be communicated via this interface?

Response: Any alarm obtained by the system will be transmitted through these means such as locations of sensor activation. This will ensure all members who are equipped with a radio will be aware of any possible security breach. They will also be used for communication between members.

=====
Question: What are the dimensions of the area to be monitored (by one system)?

Response: The system must be able to monitor an area of up 150 meters by 150 meters.

=====
Question: What is the maximum distance between the base station and the operator?

Response: The member monitoring the system must be able to move freely within the entire monitoring area at a max distance of 300m

=====
Question: What is the maximum distance between the remote components and the base station?

Response: The components must be able to be deployed 100 meters from the base station.

=====
Question: Does the CFPSU have suggestions or a preference for the type of technology employed in the system? E.g. video, laser break-the-beam, radar etc.

Response: Must contain wireless video cameras/transmitters/monitoring system, as well as wireless monitoring devices, either break beam or microwave sensors.

=====

All clauses and conditions remain unchanged.
