This amendment is raised to answer questions received from industry :

Q.11 : Can the removeable wrist rest be made from foam vs gel ?

A.11 : 'memory foam' is an acceptable replacement.

Q.12 : In point 5.1.5, is the "lip part" mandatory as the industry is getting away from it as the non-slip surface stops items from falling off.

A.12 : non-slip surface is an acceptable alternative to lip.

Q.13 : Is a quick release mounting mechanism (allows for easier mounting of monitor arms) required? (assists greatly for heavy monitors)

A.13 : not required.

Q.14 : Are the monitor arms to be mounted on a pole? If so what is the min. and max. height of the pole?

A.14 : Yes. maximum height 18" (457mm). No minimum provided, as long as the range of motion specified for the monitors is met.

Q.15 : In point 5.2.3 Can you please clarify by what is meant by a min, extensions of 2.13" and " The monitor must be able to rest against the electrical pole in order for the desk area to be utilized freely."

A.15 : This is in reference to the horizontal range of motion of the monitors. The distance given (2.13" min, 18"+max) is the distance from the back edge of the support surface towards the end-user.

All other terms and conditions remain unchanged.
