Amendment 001 is issued to provide an answer to the following question received:

Question 1:

How can we ensure that the units are deployed correctly and without damage as a result of the deployment?

Answer 1:

As indicated in Annex 'A' Requirement under Deployment heading, the Contractor is responsible to provide simple instructions and tools in order for Department of Fisheries & Oceans (DFO) to prepare, initialize and provide confirmation to the handlers that the unit is fully operational and ready for deployment at sea.

You may also provide a simple and clear checklist (paper and electronic copy) such that personnel may follow and complete the checklist to further ensure the initialization procedures are followed.

Furthermore, the Argo Profilers are lowered to the sea surface from a stopped research vessel, in a controlled descent by professional personnel and are released once in the water, free and clear of any lowering devices.
