Amendment 002

Amendment 002 has been raised to answer questions by bidders.

Q1. With regards to the breakwater float, normally there are styrofoam billets inside these units. Is this the case?

A1. There are no styrofoam billets in the breakwater floats.

Q2. Will there be a set of design drawings available for the 1.8m * 16.76m access ramp?

A2. Drawings have been posted as per Amendment 001, Addendum 001

Q3. Are there any pile driving records or soils information for the Canadian Coast Guard (CCG) Dock to the north of the project site?

A3. The Department does not have any pile driving records or soil information in the vicinity of the site.

Q4. What is the rated load capacity of the CCG dock and can it be used for materials delivery?

A4. The existing "government dock" is administered by the District of Port Hardy. The District should be contacted for permission to use the dock for material delivery. There may be a load limit sign on the "government" dock. Confirm with the District.

Q5. Are there any restrictions on towing the Trimaran Breakwater Floats to site pre-assemble? The hinge connection between the two sections would be made on-site.

A5. The breakwater float does not place any load restriction on towing. Towing lugs can be added to the floats if required by the Contractor.

Q6. Table 2, Drawing 212124-003 has inconsistencies between the pile lengths and tip elevations. Could this be checked?

A6. The "estimated max. tip elevation" should read as; Pile F1= -14.0m; Pile F2= -15.0m; Pile F3= -15.0m
