Anticipated Phases in the Solicitation Process:

Phase 1: Letter of Interest (LOI): This LOI is issued to manage the Industry Engagement Process. The Industry Engagement Process concludes when the LOI closes.

Phase 2(a): Invitation to Qualify (ITQ): An Invitation to Qualify (ITQ) will be issued on BuyandSell (GETS). The ITQ process will result in the issuance of a list of qualified suppliers. Only the qualified suppliers will be invited to participate in the Review and Refine Requirements process; and only qualified suppliers will be invited to bid on the Request for Proposal.

Phase 2(b): Review and Refine Requirements (RRR): Through the RRR process, qualified suppliers will be invited to participate in refining the requirements, which will include the review of documents and providing feedback electronically and attending working group meetings to discuss specific issues. Each qualified supplier will identify the individual(s) that will participate in the RRR process on its behalf. PWGSC will finalize solicitation documents following the RRR process, in preparation of a subsequent Request for Proposal.

Phase 3: Request for Proposal (RFP): An RFP will be issued to the suppliers that qualified under the ITQ process.

Further details regarding the above noted processes will be included in the published ITQ.
