6. STATEMENT OF WORK

Project will be focused on analyzing options to reduce phosphorus/nutrients with the overall goal of reducing algae blooms in Lake Erie. Other actions which may contribute to reducing algae (e.g. control of invasive species, etc) will be considered through the broader COA framework.

To analyze policy options that assist the Governments of Canada and Ontario to fulfil the commitments made in the amended 2012 Great Lakes Water Quality Agreement, Annex 4 Nutrients, and the Canada-Ontario Agreement on Great Lakes Water Quality and Ecosystem Health.

To identify the relative impact of implementing policy options to achieve phosphorus/nutrients reductions from Canadian sources and the cost/benefit of this incremental effort to the overall health of Lake Erie.

To provide adaptive management strategies for changes to targets, understanding of how to best implement phosphorus reduction improvements, and for application to other Great Lakes.

Project Deliverables:

The contractor will perform the following tasks as part of the study, at the direction of an Interagency Steering Committee:¹

Phase 1: Approach

- Propose an approach to analyzing policy options and meeting the requirements of phase 2, for Interagency Steering Committee approval.

Phase 2: Analysis

- Perform the analysis based on binational evaluation criteria

¹ The Interagency Steering Committee is composed of representatives of Environment Canada, Agriculture and Agri-food Canada, the Ontario Ministry of the Environment and Climate Change, and the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture, Food and Rural Affairs (others tbc)

- Identify gaps between current actions being taken to reduce phosphorus/nutrients from Canadian sources in Lake Erie and commitments as outlined in the GLWQA (based on analysis prepared as part of binational activities).
- Prepare an overview of current studies on the economic impacts of algae in Lake Erie.²
- Prepare a comprehensive list of current and potential policy options including the scope at which the instruments are, or could be, applied to achieve phosphorus/nutrients reductions from Canadian sources in Lake Erie,³⁴ including:
 - the policy options/mechanisms that can be used to require, incent, or encourage the physical initiatives (e.g., upgraded STPs, agricultural BMPs, shoreline protection/modifications, but with a focus on diffuse sources) to be implemented
 - BMPs-voluntary, BMPs-mandatory, nutrient cap and trade and direct tax on nutrient discharges
- Assemble and analyze existing data/information and prepare assessments of effectiveness in meeting targets as well as performance measures for each relevant policy option including; overall costs, benefits, socio-economic implications and the relative cost effectiveness of options (i.e., the present and future distribution of costs and benefits to the public and to affected groups) in the Lake Erie Basin,:
 - the estimated (quantified) relative changes in phosphorus loadings to Lake Erie and the timing of when the phosphorus reductions are expected to occur (e.g., immediate, 1 yr, 5yrs, 10yrs) and net revenue streams from each policy scenario;
 - the groups and individuals who will benefit and bear the costs from the actions and results of phosphorus reductions to Lake Erie, and who will pay to implement, monitor, and report on them;
 - the impact of different policies calculated from watershed level agri-environmental economic models in small, medium and large Lake Erie watersheds with different biophysical as well as socio-economic characteristics, and;
 - the relative costs/benefits of other environmental impacts (e.g. greenhouse gas emissions, erosion/sediment loadings, e-coli transport).
 - some qualitative analysis including administrative and transaction costs for each policy option (e.g. changes in regional employment, socio-cultural impacts on rural communities)
- Perform a sensitivity analysis on policy options and potential results based on risks and uncertainties including:
 - the price of agricultural commodities, or agricultural inputs and land
 - the risks from extreme weather events and from a changing climate
 - incomplete compliance/adoption of each policy option

² The information required to present an overview of the current economic impacts of algae in Lake Erie will be provided by Environment Canada.

³ See Section 4.0 of the Backgrounder for more detail on potential policy options.

⁴ For purposes of The Project, the geographic scope of Lake Erie is defined as “The Canadian side of the Lake Huron to Lake Erie corridor, and the Canadian Lake Erie Basin up to the outlet from Lake Erie into the Niagara River.”

- the ecological change in the lake
 - the lag-time in response of watersheds and open-lake water/sediments
 - landscape/regional differences in the sources/soils
 - the impact of economic drivers on cropping/agricultural practices
 - whether reduction in loadings will actually translate into a demonstrable change in the lake (and in what period of time)
 - the identification and assessment of potential opportunities to influence behaviour change with a focus on the agricultural and rural communities, specifically as they may be influenced by the above risks and uncertainties
 - landowner perceptions of the perceived benefits vs. costs as affected by the above and other issues such as land tenancy, and/or demographics)
 - Identify key data gaps and discuss how to narrow the risks and uncertainties in future analyses.
 - Prepare, discuss, and compare “policy options packages” for consideration by the Interagency Steering Committee.⁵ Consideration should be given to options that: are cost-effective, encourage broad based behaviour changes, are targeted and scalable across geographic regions and different levels of implementation, account for future climate and demographic changes.
 - Prepare a draft report containing the results of the policy options work. Meet with the Interagency Steering Committee to present and discuss the policy option packages.

Phase 3: Preparing for Public Consultation

- Prepare a plan to consult/engage with key groups and individuals, including Aboriginal peoples, to obtain their input and views on the policy options, the impacts of the options on these groups and individuals, and the acceptability of the policy options to these groups and individuals. Include consideration of “open government”.
- Prepare draft consultation/engagement materials to be used to obtain key stakeholder input and foster general public knowledge of and comments on policy options identified and analyzed during The Project.
- Prepare a final report on all 3 phases and submit it to the Interagency Steering Committee and Environment Canada for approval, with adjustments included, as necessary.

⁵ Policy options packages will be prepared in consultation with Environment Canada (and other Steering Committee members). There may be overlap between the packages, but with different policy instruments applied (e.g., incentive vs regulation).

7. EVALUATION OF BIDS

Environment Canada will evaluate the bids received based on the following factors:

- a) compliance with the terms and conditions of this solicitation;
- b) assessment of all deliverables including technical solicitation;
- c) other criteria (i.e. delivery date, price for a technically compliant proposal).

Federal Contractors Program for Employment Equity

Organizations that are subject to the Federal Contractors Program for Employment Equity (FCP-EE) but that have been declared ineligible to receive government contracts of goods and services over the threshold for solicitation of bids as set out in the Government Contract Regulations (GCRs) (currently $25,000 including applicable taxes) by Human Resources Development Canada-Labour (HRDC-Labour), either as a result of a finding of non-compliance by HRDC-Labour, or following their voluntary withdrawal from the FCP-EE) for a reason other than a reduction in their workforce, have been advised by HRDC-Labour that as a consequence of this action they are no longer eligible to receive any government contract over this threshold. Consequently, their certificate numbers have been cancelled and their names have been placed on HRDC-Labour's List of Ineligible Contractors. Bids from such organizations will be considered non-responsive.

The bidder is required to certify that it has not been declared "ineligible" by HRDC-Labour to receive government contracts over the GCRs threshold for solicitation of bids (currently $25,000) as a result of a finding of non-compliance, or as a result of having voluntarily withdrawn from the FCP-EE for a reason other than a reduction in their workforce.

Signature of authorized representative: _____

The bidder acknowledges that the Minister shall rely on this certification to award the contract. Should a verification by the Minister disclose a misrepresentation on the part of the bidder, the Minister shall have the right to treat any contract resulting from this bid as being in default.
