This amendment is posted in order to respond to the following questions:

Q1. In Annex A, Requirement for the Sleeping Bags:

Within the Materials category it states that an equivalent Insulation will be acceptable.

If proper documentation, brochures/catalogues are included in our bid submission package, will additional Size, Material and Sleeping Bag Features "equivalent to or better" be acceptable and considered compliant within this RFP?

A1. Equivalent to or better will be accepted with proper documentation. The documentation must be included in your bid package. References to websites will not be acceptable. Stated specifications are minimum/maximum specs. For example length, width, height would be minimum standards, weight would be a maximum standard.

Q2. Some examples of changes that would be beneficial to industry and client are: Allowing an equivalent to DAC press fit. Like the DAC Featherlite (the next generation which is Press Fit and other technologies)

A +/- range on the size/weight/dimensions specifications for both tents and sleeping bags would be ideal and would allow us to deliver a solution.

Other terminology like: ArcEdge flooring is proprietary naming/terminology pointing to one brand (Kelty), rather than a reasonably generic technical description with some room for variance.

Terminology also like: Ecopet Insulation (also Kelty) ....although this at least states or equivalent also points to one brand rather than being a generic description based on performance characteristics.

A2. Please see response A1.

Q3. The required delivery date of March 31st does not allow for a lot of time to complete this contract. Will the end user accept delivery after March 31st, or multiple deliveries with some goods being delivered prior to March 31st and the remainder after?

A3. The goods are to be received no later than 31 March 15.

Q4. Will you accept a bid for just one line item, or must a bidder submit a proposal for all items requested?

A4. Bids will be accepted for just one of the line items – we can award to multiple bidders.

Q5. Could you please tell me in what colour you require the sleeping bags to be manufactured?

A5. Colours preferences can be any mixture of black or blue (should there be a limited quantity then any colour in stock will suffice).

Q6. Can you please tell me what the Final Destination Mailing Address is for each item?
