Amendment 001 is raised to answer the following question:

Question 1: This solicitation calls for a galvanized trailer. Will an aluminium trailer also be acceptable?

Answer to Question 1: No, Aluminium trailer is not acceptable. Trailers must be galvanized steel.

Question 2: Is there specific boats you can supply info on so we can match trailers to boats?

Answer to Question 2: Trailers are to accommodate a RHIBs and Zodiacs

Question 3: Is there equipment at your facility (ie forklift or hoist) to off load trailers from delivery transport?

Answer to Question 3: DND will offload trailers delivered if they are accordance with the Request for Proposal Documents and are ready to use.

Question 4: Can Trailers be delivered without winchstands or tires mounted on trailers?

Answer to Question 4: Trailers must be delivered ready to use.

Question 5: Will Cypress (wood) bunks be acceptable?

Answer to Question 5: Pressure treated wood are required, as these trailers are subjected to harsh environments. They will be in and out of salt water on a regular basis both in winter and summer. These trailers have to be ready for emergency situations at any given time and we cannot have these trailers fail due to insufficient building materials.

Question 6: Will Aluminium bunks be acceptable?

Answer to Question 6: Aluminium and Cypress, although commonly used, cannot sustain a long enough life cycle under these conditions and thus will not acceptable.

All Other Terms and Conditions Remain the Same.
