AMENDMENT 003

TITLE: MOBILE WET LAB TRAILER

SEE ATTACHED.

AMENDMENT 003

This amendment is raised to present the following questions from bidders and the responses from the Project Authority and revise the RFP's Solicitation Closing Date.

- Questions and Answers:

Q16. Item 2.6.1.C - Electrical outlets to be surface mounted 44" O.F.F. and wired in pipe switches and plugs wiring to be concealed. Does that mean that the outlets are surface mounted and the conduit to be buried in wall or can the conduit to surface mounted as well or can the wiring be in the wall with BX cable and wired into surface mounted boxes?

A16. Either is acceptable. Please refer to Addendum # 2.

Q17. Item 2.5.a and c - If the A/C unit comes with heat 5KW do you still require forced air heaters on the wall or do you require both?

A17. Forced air heaters are not required only if heating can be provided by the A/C unit (ex. a heat pump).

Q18. In Section 2.2 – item F of the specification, access ramp to be included with trailer - Is there any more info that can be provided for this item, what it's to be constructed of, used for, size, etc.?
We are concerned with how to install a ramp on a mobile trailer that will be moved from time to time.

A18. An access ramp is required to aid in transporting buckets of fish into the trailer. The ramp does not need to be permanently fastened to the trailer and can be disconnected when moving the trailer. The ramp must be a minimum of 48 inches (1.21m) wide and the slope must not exceed 21%. The ramp must have fasteners to attach the ramp to the trailer when the trailer is operating. The ramp can be constructed out of wood or heavy gauge galvanized grating and must be easily disassembled or light enough to transport on site by hand.

DFO is currently using a heavy gauge galvanized grating as an access ramp to the existing trailer. The ramp is 3 inches (0.0762m) deep X 12 feet (3.66m) long X 48 inches (1.22m) wide (2 x 24 inch (.6m) wide pieces bolted together, side by side). The ramp attaches to the door approximately 30 inches (0.762m) off the ground.
