1) To answer questions from industry

Question 001

Reviewing the Sol. # W8486-162773/A this morning, is noticed that there are no specifications or details to any of the items required. My past experience has been that the solicitation would have a Section dedicated to the performance or specification or abilities of the item needed.

At present, I have no indication to the frequency requirements, power abilities, analysis requirements for any of the items. Would you be so kind as to reply and instruct me upon where I might be able to receive the required specifications for the items wished for in this solicitation?

Answer 001

All the information can be found at the supplier website.

Question 002

I am looking up the NSN number for the spectrum analyzer called out in the subject solicitation and cannot find a valid part number. I have tried a number of websites.

Can you point me to a website where this NSN number shows up or provide the actual description?

Answer 002

All the information can be found at the supplier website.
