Project Description: Redredging (Paramount Site)
Steveston, BC

KL

The following changes/clarifications in the tender documents are effective immediately.

This addendum 001 will form part of the contract documents.

This Addendum 001 is issued to provide responses to questions from bidder stemming from the site visit.

1.1 MATERIAL DISPOSAL

.1 DISPOSAL-AT-SEA

- .1 The contractor is responsible for securing any permits and approvals for transit of materials to the Disposal-at-Sea (DAS) site at Point Grey, as specified in the contract documents. The permit for disposal at the DAS site will be obtained by the owner.

.2 UPLAND DISPOSAL

- .1 Upland disposal permits and related disposal fees are the responsibility of the contractor.

.3 In-river disposal is not permitted.

1.2 ACCEPTABLE DREDGE METHODS

.1 CLAMSHELL

- .1 Dredged material will be deposited onto a barge, quantity measured, and transported by the contractor for upland disposal or disposal-at-sea (DAS) Point Grey location.

.2 CUTTER-SUCTION

- .1 Dredged material must be pumped onto a barge and dewatered for measurement of quantity. The material will then be transported by the contractor for upland disposal or disposal-at-sea (DAS) Point Grey location.

1.3 BATHYMETRY DATA

- .1 Bathymetry drawings of the site have been attached to this amendment. The data used in these drawings is from November 27, 2014. (See ATTA001)

1.4 DREDGE AREA

- .1 No dredging will be undertaken beneath the floats or pile structures.
- .2 The dredge area has been updated to exclude areas on the perimeter of Nelson Pond outside the float system. See updated dredge area drawings:
- SP-DR-001-Rev1 (See ATTA001)
 - SP-DR-002-Rev1 (See ATTA001)

1.5 DREDGED VOLUME

- .1 Dredged volumes will be displacement-measured on the barge and agreed upon by both parties.

- .2 All interim surveys for target dredge depths will be conducted by the owner. The contractor may conduct surveys for their own quality assurance purposes. Any dredging beyond the approved sub-grade will be at the cost of the contractor.

All other terms and conditions remain unchanged.
