Advance Contract Award Notice (ACAN) for Access to US and Canada Oil and Natural Gas Well-Productivity Database System

The National Energy Board (NEB) has identified a requirement for access to a well productivity database system for the onshore U.S. Lower 48 and western Canada that will allow the NEB's Supply Team to continue with its data-processing work, energy modelling and publishing of production estimates in the Energy Futures report, annual outlooks for crude oil and natural gas deliverability, and to perform other analyses for publication and for internal NEB use.

Purpose of the ACAN

The purpose of this ACAN is to provide public notice indicating to the supplier community that NEB intends to award a contract for these services to IHS Inc. Before awarding the contract however, the government would like to allow other potential suppliers to signal their interest in bidding and demonstrate they are capable of satisfying the requirements by submitting a Statement of Capabilities within the 15 calendar day posting period.

If no other potential supplier submits a Statement of Capabilities that meets the requirements set out in the ACAN, on or before the closing date stated in the ACAN, the contracting officer may then proceed with the award to the pre-identified supplier.

2. Ability to visualize and analyze well productivity and completion trends over time by play, region and customizable well group across multiple parameters including by operator, fluid type, and peak production per lateral foot
3. Ability to export reasonably sized search lists and their associated well header and production data to other windows-based systems for manipulation, such as Excel and Access.
4. Ability to operate on the NEB's standard information technology platforms, including Windows 7 (32-bit and 64-bit) desktops, Windows 2003 and Windows 2008 file servers, Windows 2008 print servers, Microsoft IIS web servers, and SQL servers 2005 and 2008.
