Amendment 003 is created to answer the following question raised from a bidder:

Question 1:

We would like to determine prior to processing our bid as to whether you are in possession of existing engineered drawing files, in either 2D flat CAD files or 3D model files? May we complete our bidding procedure on said "existing" drawing package requirements for these lockers. Or is the process completely open to engineering design interpretation as outlined per your Annex "A" Requirement, therefore , we the manufacturer would supply our own drawings as supporting compliance of technical documents in conjunction with our monetary bid?

Response:

No, there aren't any engineered drawing files.

Yes, the process is open to design interpretation as per the description outlined in Annex "A" Requirement.

ALL OTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE RFP REMAIN UNCHANGED.
