

Question 1:

Will CMHC accept proposals in which multiple firms collaborate on the project? The capacity required to conduct that many surveys in a single month is very high and many research firms would not be able to dedicate that many hours to a project in a single month.

Response:

Yes, CMHC will accept proposals in which multiple firms collaborate on the project. The proposal should include information on all companies that would be involved. Any joint venture submission must adhere to the information as shown in Section 2.19 of the RFP.

Please note that CMHC would prefer to have only one point of contact for communication.
