JUS-RFSO-CTRPT-2016-001 AMENDMENT 003

PART 1: Questions and Answers

Question #5A: Is it possible to have historic data regarding number of days court reporters were required, number of days of boardroom rentals and number of transcript pages produced in previous years?

Question #5B: If possible, kindly provide an estimate of the numbers of days wherein Real-time Reporting Services was requested and provided and how many hookups were provided, please?

If possible, kindly provide a breakdown of the numbers of days that lasted longer than two days that requested ordinary delivery, expedited delivery, daily copy delivery, draft electronic delivery, please?

If possible, kindly provide an estimate of the numbers of days reserved that were cancelled within 48 hours?

If possible, kindly provide the numbers of days requested for court reporting services in the last three years, please?

Answer #5: Unfortunately, the Department of Justice Canada (JUS) did not keep track of this historical data and therefore it is not possible to provide a response to the questions above. JUS intends to start tracking this data when the new Standing Offers are awarded.
