PART 1 - GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Security Requirement

There is no security requirement associated with this solicitation.

2. Summary

Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC) is seeking proposals for research projects on the issue of immigration in Canada's Official Language Minority Communities

This research must enable CIC to broaden its expertise and knowledge in the field of immigration in OLMCs, in accordance with Part VII of the Official Languages Act, which states that CIC has an obligation to take positive measures to promote official languages and support the vitality of OLMCs. That research and the resulting knowledge are also intended to support CIC in its intention to achieve the objectives of the new Roadmap for Canada's Official Languages 2013-2018: Education, Immigration, Communities.

Multiple Contracts

Canada is seeking to establish up to seven (7) contracts for Research Project Services as defined in Appendix "D", Statement of Work and Appendix "E", Basis of Payment.

3. Debriefings

After contract award, bidders may request a debriefing on the results of the bid solicitation process. Bidders should make the request to the Contracting Authority within fifteen (15) working days of receipt of the results of the bid solicitation process. The debriefing may be in writing, by telephone, or in person.

PART 2 - BIDDER INSTRUCTIONS

1. Standard Instructions, Clauses and Conditions

All Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC) instructions, clauses and conditions identified in the bid solicitation by number, date and title are set out in the CIC Website at <http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/transparency/index.asp>

All SACC manual clauses for specific instructions not covered by the standard instructions identified in the bid solicitation by number, date and title are set out in the Standard Acquisition Clauses and Conditions Manual (<https://buyandsell.gc.ca/policy-and-guidelines/standard-acquisition-clauses-and-conditions-manual>) issued by Public Works and Government Services Canada.

Bidders who submit a bid agree to be bound by the instructions, clauses and conditions of the bid solicitation and accept the clauses and conditions of the resulting contract.

The CIC-SI-001 \(2016-05-26\) Standard Instructions – Goods or Services Competitive Requirements, are incorporated by reference into and form part of the bid solicitation.

2. Submission of Bids

Bids must be submitted only to Citizenship and Immigration Canada by the date, time and place indicated on page 1 of the bid solicitation.

Due to the nature of the bid solicitation, bids transmitted by facsimile to Citizenship and Immigration Canada will not be accepted.

3. Enquiries - Bid Solicitation

All enquiries must be submitted in writing to the Contracting Authority no later than 5 calendar days before the bid closing date. Enquiries received after that time may not be answered.

Bidders should reference as accurately as possible the numbered item of the bid solicitation to which the enquiry relates. Care should be taken by bidders to explain each question in sufficient detail in order to enable Canada to provide an accurate answer. Technical enquiries that are of a proprietary nature must be clearly marked "proprietary" at each relevant item. Items identified as "proprietary" will be treated as such except where Canada determines that the enquiry is not of a proprietary nature. Canada may edit the questions or may request that the Bidder do so, so that the proprietary nature of the question is eliminated, and the enquiry can be answered with copies to all bidders. Enquiries not submitted in a form that can be distributed to all bidders may not be answered by Canada.

4. Applicable Laws

Any resulting contract must be interpreted and governed, and the relations between the parties determined by the laws in force in Ontario.

PART 3 - BID PREPARATION INSTRUCTIONS

1. Bid Preparation Instructions

Canada requests that bidders provide their bid in separately bound sections as follows:

Section I: Technical Bid (1 soft copy by email)

Section II: Financial Bid (1 soft copy by email)

Section III: Certifications (1 soft copy by email)

Canada requests that respondents submit their response in unprotected (i.e. no password) PDF format by email and the size of the document cannot exceed 10MB. Emails exceeding 10MB will not be received.

Prices must appear in the financial bid only. No prices must be indicated in any other section of the bid.

Section I: Technical Bid

In their technical bid, bidders should explain and demonstrate how they propose to meet the requirements and how they will carry out the Work. Bidders should demonstrate their capability and describe their approach in a thorough, concise and clear manner for carrying out the work.

The technical bid should address clearly and in sufficient depth the points that are subject to the evaluation. Simply repeating the statement contained in the bid solicitation is not sufficient in order to facilitate the evaluation of the bid. Canada requests that bidders address and present topics in the order of the evaluation criteria, and under the same headings. To avoid duplication, bidders may refer to different sections of their bids by identifying the specific page number and paragraph where the subject topic has already been addressed.

Section II: Financial Bid

Bidders must submit their financial bid in accordance with Appendix “E”, Basis of Payment. The total amount of applicable taxes must be shown separately, if applicable.

Bidders should include the following information in their financial bid by completing Appendix “F”, Vendor Information and Authorization and include it with their bid:

1. Their legal name;
2. Their Procurement Business Number (PBN); and
3. The name of the contact person (including this person's mailing address, phone and facsimile numbers, and email address) authorized by the Bidder to enter into communications with Canada with regards to:
 - a) their bid; and
 - b) any contract that may result from their bid.

Proposed firm prices must be in Canadian dollars.

The Bidder's firm price in response to this RFP and resulting contract(s) must include all overhead, general & administrative costs and profit. Included are the following costs that may be incurred in providing the required services: office space, computer hardware and software, word processing, preparation of reports, photocopying, courier services, facsimile services, telephone services, and all travel expenses.

Bidders must provide in their financial bid a price breakdown as detailed in Appendix "E", Basis of Payment.

1.1 SACC Manual Clauses

C3011T (2013-11-06) - Exchange Rate Fluctuation

The requirement does not provide for exchange rate fluctuation protection. Any request for exchange rate fluctuation protection will not be considered and will render the bid non-responsive.

Section III: Certifications

Bidders must submit the required certifications under Part 5 – Certifications.

PART 4 - EVALUATION PROCEDURES AND BASIS OF SELECTION

1. Evaluation Procedures

- (a) Bids will be assessed in accordance with the entire requirement of the bid solicitation including the technical and financial evaluation criteria.
- (b) An evaluation team composed of representatives of Canada will evaluate the bids.

1.1 Technical Evaluation

1.1.1 Mandatory Technical Criteria

The bid must meet the mandatory technical criteria specified below. The Bidder must provide the necessary documentation to support compliance with this requirement.

Mandatory requirements are evaluated on a simple pass or fail basis. Failure by a Bidder to meet any one of the mandatory requirements will render the Bidder's proposal non-responsive and will not be given further consideration. The treatment of mandatory requirements in any procurement process is absolute. Each mandatory technical criterion should be addressed separately.

For each project summary provided, Bidders are required to provide specific dates (month and year) of experience as well as the total duration of project (number of months). The month(s) of experience listed for a project whose timeframe overlaps that of another referenced project will only be counted once. For example: Project 1 timeframe is July 2001 to December 2001; Project 2 timeframe is October 2001 to January 2002; the total months of experience for these two project references is seven (7) months.

Mandatory Technical Criteria are applicable to all seven (7) themes as identified in Appendix “D”, Statement of Work.

1.1.2 Point Rated Technical Criteria

Each Technical Bid that meets all the Mandatory Requirements specified above will be evaluated and scored in accordance with the following point-rated evaluation criteria table(s). Each point rated technical criterion should be addressed separately.

For each project summary provided, Bidders are required to provide specific dates (month and year) of experience as well as the total duration of project (number of months). The month(s) of experience listed for a project whose timeframe overlaps that of another referenced project will only be counted once. For example: Project 1 timeframe is July 2001 to December 2001; Project 2 timeframe is October 2001 to January 2002; the total months of experience for these two project references is seven (7) months.

Point Rated Criteria are applicable to all seven (7) themes as identified in Appendix “D”, Statement of Work.

1.2 Financial Evaluation

Only the proposals that are technically responsive will be considered for financial evaluation.

The price of the bid will be evaluated in Canadian dollars, applicable taxes are excluded.

For the purposes of bid evaluation, Basis of Payment, Appendix “E” will be used. The Bidder must provide an all inclusive firm price for the services being proposed in accordance with the bid solicitation, for the contract period.

1.3 Formulas in Pricing Schedule

If the Pricing Schedule provided to bidders include any formulae, Canada may re-input the prices provided by bidders into a fresh table, if Canada believes that the formulae may no longer be functioning properly in the version submitted by a bidder.

2.0 Basis of Selection

2.1 Basis of Selection - Highest Combined Rating of Technical Merit and Price

2.1.2 To be declared responsive, a bid must:

- a. comply with all the requirements of the bid solicitation; and
- b. meet all mandatory criteria; and
- c. obtain the required minimum points specified for criteria numbers RC2 and RC4 for the technical evaluation; and
- d. Obtain the required minimum of 15 points overall for the technical evaluation criteria which are subject to point rating.

The rating is performed on a scale of 25 points.

2.1.3 Bids not meeting (a) or (b) or (c) or (d) will be declared non-responsive.

2.1.4 The selection will be based on the highest responsive combined rating of technical merit and price. The ratio will be 90% for the technical merit and 10% for the price.

2.1.5 To establish the technical merit score, the overall technical score for each responsive bid will be determined as follows: total number of points obtained / maximum number of points available multiplied by the ratio of 90%

2.1.6 To establish the pricing score, each responsive bid will be prorated against the lowest evaluated price and the ratio of 10%

2.1.7 For each responsive bid, the technical merit score and the pricing score will be added to determine its combined rating.

2.1.8 Neither the responsive bid obtaining the highest technical score nor the one with the lowest evaluated price will necessarily be accepted. The responsive bid with the highest combined rating of technical merit and price will be recommended for award of a contract.

The table below illustrates an example where all three bids are responsive and the selection of the contractor is determined by a 90/10 ratio of technical merit and price, respectively. The total available points equal's 135 and the lowest evaluated price is $45,000 (45).

Basis of Selection - Highest Combined Rating of Technical Merit (90%) and Price (10%)

		Bidder 1	Bidder 2	Bidder 3
Overall Technical Score		115/135	89/135	92/135
Bid Evaluated Price		$55,000.00	$50,000.00	$45,000.00
Calculations	Technical Merit Score	$115/135 \times 90 = 76.67$	$89/135 \times 90 = 59.33$	$92/135 \times 90 = 61.33$
	Pricing Score	$45/55 \times 10 = 8.18$	$45/50 \times 10 = 9.00$	$45/45 \times 10 = 10.00$
Combined rating		84.85	68.33	71.33
Overall rating		1st	3rd	2nd

APPENDIX “D”, STATEMENT OF WORK

1. Title

Research projects on immigration in Canada’s Official Language Minority Communities (OLMCs).

2. Objective

Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC) is seeking proposals for research projects on the issue of immigration in Canada’s Official language minority communities (OLMCs). OLMCs include Francophone Minority Communities (FMCs) and English-Speaking Communities in Quebec (ESCQs).

3. Background

This research must enable CIC to broaden its expertise and knowledge in the field of immigration in OLMCs, in accordance with Part VII of the Official Languages Act, which states that CIC has an obligation to take positive measures to promote official languages and support the vitality of OLMCs. That research and the resulting knowledge are also intended to support CIC in its intention to achieve the objectives of the new Roadmap for Canada’s Official Languages 2013-2018: Education, Immigration, Communities.

4. Scope

It is important for CIC to gain a better understanding of the challenges that immigrants face, specifically that of settling and living in a minority context. By relying on thorough, up-to-date expertise, knowledge and data, diverse and innovative approaches pertaining to immigration to OLMCs, CIC will better be able to contribute to the success of immigrants in OLMCs and, thereby, support the vitality of OLMCs.¹

5. Task

The research projects must address one of the following seven themes:

Theme I: Participation of French-Speaking Immigrants in a Minority Situation

Theme II: Settlement and Integration Experiences of French-Speaking Immigrants and Refugees from Sub-Saharan Africa

Theme III: A Study on French-Speaking Refugees in Winnipeg and Saint Boniface

Theme IV: Access to Employment among Recent French-Speaking Immigrants in the Atlantic region

Theme V: The Community Learning Centre (CLC) Initiative” and English-Speaking Immigrants and Refugees in Quebec: A Case Study

Theme VI: Re-settlement and Integration Experiences of English-Speaking Refugees in Quebec

Theme VII: Access to Employment among Recent English-Speaking Immigrants in Quebec

1. The research activities to be considered by this call for proposals are in no way intended to infringe on Quebec’s responsibilities under the Canada-Quebec Accord Relating to Immigration. The parameters of this call for proposals comply with the Official Languages Act, which sets out CIC’s responsibility regarding Quebec’s Anglophone minorities, and solely for that purpose.

Researchers must apply for a specific theme for each research project they propose. The theme of their project must be clearly indicated in their application. Key issues are identified for each theme as examples.

5.1 Research themes

Theme I: Participation of French-Speaking Immigrants in a Minority Situation

5.1.1 Description

Background :

Considering that the Government of Canada encourages the full participation of immigrants in society and that several studies establish a link between the participation of immigrants and their civic and socio-economic integration, it seems essential to address this issue more fully in order to better support the active participation of French-speaking immigrants in a minority situation within Canadian society. The purpose of this research is to shed light on the factors that influence the degree and forms of immigration participation in the host society,² and the impact of their participation on them and on society.

Issue :

To address this issue, the focus must be on the organizations, associations or community groups immigrants are involved with in order to better understand the forces driving this involvement, and what the outcome is for them, the community or the group they identify with, and society in general. The participation of French-speaking immigrants in the community can be analyzed based on paid activities or volunteer work in various settings and contexts. These activities could be carried out within public or private organizations, volunteer associations, or even more informal or casual events of any nature (cultural, religious, sports, educational, political, etc.). More generally, this research must contribute to analyzing the degree of openness, inclusiveness and representativeness of the host society in relation to the diversity of the French-speaking immigrant population, and how the immigrants react.

Methodology :

To address the theme, a comparative study of the participation of French-speaking immigrants within three different community organizations, associations or groups would be necessary. The organizations or associations selected should reflect a certain amount of diversity in terms of their mandate (cultural, religious, charitable, educational, etc.) and the proportion of immigrants involved in their activities. A qualitative or ethnographic approach should be taken, using the data from individual interviews (a minimum of 10 interviews with recent French-speaking immigrants per association, for a total of at least 30 interviews). Interviews will be conducted in person (in situ). If necessary, the research could also develop further data through observations, group interviews (focus group) and questionnaires. Interviews with representatives of the selected organizations or associations could also be beneficial.

5.1.2 Key questions :

² "Host society" means any region, town, city or community in Canada, with the exception of Quebec.

The following questions are examples and suggest different analytical angles to address the theme:

- a) What factors hinder, foster and motivate the participation of French-speaking immigrants in community associations or organizations?
- b) Does the immigrant participation within the community teach us anything about the degree of the immigrant's recognition by the host society as a stakeholder and full citizen?
- c) Do immigrants participate in known and well-established organizations within the host community, or associations or initiatives set up to address the specific needs and challenges of immigrants, including their culture of origin or identity referents? What is the explanation for this choice?
- d) What is the impact of civic participation primarily through ethno-cultural organizations or associations? Do they promote recognition, mobility and integration, or, on the contrary, a refusal to integrate among participants?
- e) According to the 2006 World Values Survey, recent immigrants are less likely to be members of volunteer associations than established immigrants and Canadians by birth, with the specific exception of ethnic associations, where they are more likely to volunteer. Why?
- f) What possibilities are there for immigrants to get involved in the leadership of the host society? To participate in the management of Francophone organizations? To run for elected positions or positions of responsibility?

Theme II: Settlement and Integration Experiences of French-Speaking Immigrants and Refugees from Sub-Saharan Africa

5.2.1 Description

Background :

The settlement and integration of immigrants and refugees is a priority of the Government of Canada's immigration strategy. Analysis and consultations with partners have identified a need for research on the French-speaking immigrants and refugees from Sub-Saharan African, which has become an important source of French-speaking newcomers to Canada.

The overall objective of this study is to document and enhance understanding of the settlement and integration experiences of French-speaking immigrants and refugees from Sub-Saharan Africa living outside Quebec.

Issue :

The immigration trajectories of French-speaking immigrants and refugees from Sub-Saharan African will be examined, as well as how and why they came to settle and establish themselves in minority contexts outside Quebec. Emphasis will also be placed on the settlement and integration experiences of very recent (0-5 years), recent (6-10 years) and established (11 years +) immigrants and refugees.

Methodology :

This study will consist of two case studies in two cities outside Quebec (excluding Winnipeg/Saint-Boniface). At least 20 individual interviews will be conducted in person in each city for a total of at least 40 individual interviews. Interviews will include a sample of French-speaking immigrants (economic and family class) and refugees from Sub-Saharan Africa. In-person focus-groups and a short questionnaire could also be included as part of the methodology.

5.2.2 Key questions :

The following questions are examples that suggest different angles of analysis to examine this theme:

- a) What are the characteristics of very recent, recent and more established French-speaking immigrants (economic and family class) and refugees from Sub-Saharan African who live in minority settings?
- b) How and why do French-speaking immigrants and refugees from Sub-Saharan Africa settle and establish themselves in minority settings? What are their migration trajectories? Do they want to leave their current city/community and why?
- c) What challenges do French-speaking immigrants and refugees from Sub-Saharan Africa face in their settlement and integration experiences? (Examples: language tests availability, costs, information overseas/after landing, access to the labour market, social networks, cultural adjustment, social isolation, discrimination, etc.) What challenges are common and specific to immigrants (economic and family class) and refugees? Are there gender-based realities?
- d) What positive experiences have French-speaking immigrants and refugees from Sub-Saharan Africa experienced in their settlement and integration experiences (e.g. socio-economic, education, cultural, their children, etc.)?
- e) What governmental programs and policies (municipal, provincial, federal) and community-based initiatives a) helped in the past and b) could potentially help in the future French-speaking immigrants and refugees from Sub-Saharan Africa in their settlement and integration experiences?
- f) What recommendations would French-speaking immigrants and refugees from Sub-Saharan Africa give to their counterparts living in sub-Saharan Africa who are considering immigrating in minority contexts outside Quebec?

Theme III: A Study on French-Speaking Refugees in Winnipeg and Saint Boniface

5.3.1 Description

Background :

The re-settlement and integration of refugees is a priority of the Government of Canada's immigration strategy. Analysis and consultations with partners have identified a need for research on the re-settlement and integration of French-speaking refugees in Winnipeg and Saint Boniface, Manitoba.

The overall objective of this study is to document and enhance understanding of the experiences of French-speaking refugees, the availability and access to French-language services, and the role that the French-speaking communities of Winnipeg and Saint Boniface play in welcoming refugees.

Issue :

The study will provide a descriptive portrait of French-speaking refugee re-settlement and integration in Winnipeg and Saint Boniface, MB. A socio-economic profile of refugees (e.g. country of origin, gender, age, education), receiving communities (e.g. demographic data on immigrant, French-speaking, and overall population, employment/unemployment rates, etc.), and the French-language services and resources available to refugees, should be included in the study.

The study will also provide an analysis of the re-settlement and integration experiences of French-speaking refugees. The different factors and conditions which can impact these processes (e.g. the needs of refugees and access to services responding to their needs; impact of discrimination; etc.) should be included as part of the analysis, in addition to an analysis of the role of French-speaking communities and resources, for example the organisation L'Accueil francophone du Manitoba, in supporting French-speaking refugees. The study should also examine the contributions of French-speaking refugees in supporting and enhancing the vitality of the welcoming communities, including French-speaking communities in Winnipeg and Saint Boniface.

Methodology :

This study will focus on French-speaking refugees in Winnipeg and Saint Boniface, MB. The study should focus on the settlement and integration experiences of recent (0-5 years) French-speaking refugees. At least 20-30 individual interviews will be conducted in person. Interviews will include a sample of French-speaking refugees, where possible, to reflect diversity in gender, age, country of origin, and other relevant variables. Separate interviews should also include members of the local French-speaking community who support the re-settlement and integration of French-speaking refugees. In-person focus-groups and a short questionnaire could also be included as part of the methodology.

5.3.2 Key questions :

The following questions are examples that suggest different angles of analysis to examine this theme:

- a) How and why were the French-speaking refugees re-settled in the identified communities? What were their migration trajectories?
- b) What role can or do French-speaking communities play in supporting the re-settlement and integration process and experiences of French-speaking refugees? What role does the majority English-speaking community play? Is there a relationship between communities in supporting French-speaking refugees?
- c) What services did French-speaking refugees use? What were the benefits and/or shortcomings? Were other services needed and why?
- d) What skills and resources do French-speaking refugees use to support and facilitate their re-settlement and integration processes and experiences?
- e) What challenges do French-speaking refugees encounter? Are they shaped or defined by their status as refugees? To what extent does their linguistic status as French-speaking refugees impact their experiences?
- f) What positive experiences have French-speaking refugees experienced in their settlement and integration experiences in the communities identified for study (e.g. socio-economic, education, cultural, their children, etc.)?

- g) What governmental programs and policies (municipal, provincial, federal) and community-based initiatives support French-speaking refugees in their settlement and integration experiences?
- h) What recommendations or insights would French-speaking refugees give to enhance our understanding of their re-settlement and integration experiences?

Theme IV: Access to Employment among Recent French-Speaking Immigrants in the Atlantic region

5.4.1 Description

Background :

Considering that the Government of Canada encourages labour market access for immigrants, it seems essential to identify the best ways to encourage active and rewarding socio-economic participation on their part. The purpose of this research is to shed light on how recent French-speaking immigrants³ in the Atlantic region become active members of society, and the factors hindering their full participation in the labour market.

Issue :

To address this issue, the focus must be on the paths and different experiences of recent French-speaking immigrants in terms of employment during their first five years in Canada, and the strategies implemented to access the labour market or to improve their chances of success (e.g. volunteer work, return to school, internship, setting up a business, precarious or underpaid employment). This entails analyzing how immigrants, and their immediate environment (couple, family), adapt or transform in order to try to satisfy formal and informal labour market requirements. It also involves looking at the various factors that structure recent immigrants' access and transition to the labour market. It will thus be important to shed light on structural constraints around the process of accessing the labour market, looking at both explicit rules and policies, as well as more implicit standards or values. The research must also take stock of the needs expressed by immigrants in this area, while also suggesting ways to improve the services and support offered in the host society. Analyzing the employment situation of recent immigrants will involve a more general examination of the degree of openness and inclusiveness of the host society in relation to the diversity of the Francophone immigration population.

Methodology :

To address the theme, a qualitative or ethnographic approach should be taken, using the data from individual interviews (a minimum of 20 interviews with recent French-speaking immigrants living in one or two cities in Atlantic Canada). Interviews must be conducted in person (in situ). The research could also develop further data through observations, group interviews (focus group) and questionnaires. Interviews with representatives of organizations, associations or service centres that work with immigrants could also be beneficial.

5.4.2 Key questions :

³ "Recent immigrant" means any permanent resident who arrived in Canada in the last five years.

The following questions are examples and suggest different analytical angles to address the theme:

- a) What changes or adaptations must French-speaking immigrants and their families undertake in order to find a job? How does their professional downgrading or disqualification compare with that of other Canadians or more established immigrants? Among recent French-speaking immigrants, are some minorities more at risk than others?
- b) How do employment support services assist with this adaptation or transformation? Are these services able to provide sound advice to immigrants with respect to professional directions? New career choices to be considered? Employment areas or opportunities to be explored? A business to set up?
- c) Is entrepreneurship among immigrants a symptom of a lack of employment opportunities or openness on the part of the host society?
- d) What strategies will increase their chances of finding a satisfactory job (volunteer work, internship, courses, mentoring, etc.)? Is the first job important or decisive for the future?
- e) Does socio-professional downgrading or access to employment affect male and female recent immigrants the same way? What repercussions do these differences have on couple and family relationships?
- f) How important is fluency in the official languages for accessing the labour market? What lesson is being taught in terms of training and service offer?

Theme V: The “Community Learning Centre (CLC) Initiative” and English-Speaking Immigrants and Refugees in Quebec: A Case Study

5.5.1 Description

Background :

Consultations with stakeholders and analysis point to the need to better understand the full range of services offered to English-speaking immigrants and refugees in the province of Quebec. “The Community Learning Centre (CLC) Initiative” has the dual role of promoting student perseverance and English-speaking community vitality in Quebec, provides an interesting model for the delivery of different services based on a community approach. Accordingly, the overall objective of this case study is to enhance understanding about the CLC Initiative, and the experiences of English-speaking immigrants and refugees who have used the services of this organization in Quebec.

Issue :

This case study will document the organizational structure, services, approaches, challenges and accomplishments of CLCs with respect to their role with English-speaking immigrants and refugees. The settlement and integration experiences of English-speaking immigrants and refugees having used to the services of CLCs, as well as their overall immigration trajectories, will also be examined. Conclusions stemming from this case study will provide information on the factors that contributed to the success of CLCs in welcoming and integrating English-speaking immigrants and refugees in Quebec, and inform Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada

(IRRC)'s partners and stakeholders on best practices and the settlement and integration experiences of English-speaking immigrants and refugees in Quebec.

Methodology :

The organizational analysis of the CLC Initiative will include a documentary analysis, as well as in-person interviews with representatives of the organization and its partners. At least 20 individual interviews will be conducted in person with English-speaking immigrants and refugees having used the services of CLCs in at least 3 different regions of Quebec (approximately 7-10 interviews per region), with emphasis on ensuring diversity, e.g. gender, age, time of arrival in Canada, etc. In-person focus groups and a short questionnaire could also be included as part of the methodology.

5.5.2 Key questions :

The following questions are examples that suggest different angles of analysis to examine this theme :

- a) What is the organizational structure of the CLC Initiative? What are the services, approaches, accomplishments and challenges of the organization? How does the organization leverage relationships with stakeholders at the community, provincial, and national levels?
- b) What are the characteristics of English-speaking immigrants and refugees using the services of CLCs? What were their migration trajectories?
- c) What services did English-speaking immigrants and refugees use in CLCs? What were the benefits and/or shortcomings? Were other services needed and why?
- d) What are the community or regional differences in terms of service needs and delivery? What is the impact of local English-speaking community characteristics on the delivery of services and client settlement and integration experiences?
- e) What were the settlement and integration experiences (positive and challenges) of English-speaking immigrants and refugees using the services of CLCs? Do they want to leave or stay in their current city/community and why? Are there gender-based realities?
- f) What factors contributed to the success/challenges of CLCs in welcoming and integrating English-speaking immigrants and refugees in Quebec? (e.g. partnerships, welcoming process, geography, experiences of newcomers, etc.)?

Theme VI: Re-settlement and Integration Experiences of English-Speaking Refugees in Quebec

5.6.1 Description

Background :

The re-settlement of refugees is a priority of the Government of Canada's immigration strategy. Analysis and consultations with partners have identified a need for research on the re-settlement, integration, and experiences of English-speaking refugees in Quebec, and how English-speaking communities in Quebec support re-settlement and integration.

The overall objective of this study is to enhance understanding of the unique experiences of English-speaking refugees who are re-settled in Quebec, and the factors which can impact their integration in their receiving communities, including English-speaking communities.

Issue :

The study will provide a descriptive portrait of English-speaking refugee re-settlement and integration in Quebec. Information on the migration trajectories of the refugees, a socio-economic profile of refugees (e.g. gender, age, education), socio-economic profiles of receiving communities (e.g. demographic data on immigrant, English-speaking, and overall population, employment/unemployment rates, etc.), and the services available to refugees, including English-language services and resources offered by English-speaking communities, should be included in the study.

The study will also provide an analysis of the re-settlement and integration experiences of English-speaking refugees. The different factors and conditions which can impact these processes (e.g. the needs of refugees and access to services responding to their needs such as health care, religion, housing, child care, education; impact of discrimination; local economic opportunities for newcomers/refugees, etc.) should be included as part of the analysis, in addition to an analysis of the role of local English-speaking communities and resources in supporting English-speaking refugees.

Methodology :

This study will focus on English-speaking refugees in Montreal and a second city with both a refugee population and an English-speaking community, such as Quebec City, Gatineau, or Sherbrooke. The study should focus on the settlement and integration experiences of very recent (0-5 years) English-speaking refugees. At least 20-30 individual interviews will be conducted in person for Montreal, and 10-15 for the second city selected. Interviews will include a sample of English-speaking refugees, where possible, to reflect diversity in gender, age, country of origin, and other relevant variables. Separate interviews should also include members of the local English-speaking community who support the re-settlement and integration of English-speaking refugees. In-person focus-groups and a short questionnaire could also be included as part of the methodology.

5.6.2 Key questions:

The following questions are examples that suggest different points of analysis to examine this theme:

- a) What are the socio-economic characteristics of recent English-speaking immigrants refugees in the two cities/communities identified for analysis?
- b) How and why were the English-speaking refugees re-settled in the identified communities? What were their migration trajectories?
- c) What role can or does the local English-speaking community play in supporting the re-settlement and integration process and experiences of English-speaking refugees? What role does the majority French-speaking community play? Is there a relationship between communities in supporting English-speaking refugees?
- d) What services do English-speaking refugees use? What were the benefits and/or shortcomings? Were other services needed and why?

- e) What skills and resources do English-speaking refugees use to support and facilitate their re-settlement and integration processes and experiences?
- f) What challenges do English-speaking refugees encounter? Are they shaped or defined by their status as refugees? To what extent does their linguistic status as English-speaking refugees impact their experiences?
- g) What positive experiences have English-speaking refugees experienced in their settlement and integration experiences in the communities identified for study (e.g. socio-economic, education, cultural, their children, etc.)?
- h) What governmental programs and policies (municipal, provincial, federal) and community-based initiatives support English-speaking refugees in their settlement and integration experiences?
- i) What recommendations or insights would English-speaking refugees give to enhance our understanding of their re-settlement and integration experiences?

Theme VI : Access to Employment among Recent English-Speaking Immigrants in Quebec

5.7.1 Description

person (in situ). The research could also develop further data through observations, group interviews (focus group) and questionnaires. Interviews with representatives of organizations, associations or service centres that work with immigrants could also be beneficial.

5.7.2 Key questions :

The following questions are examples and suggest different analytical angles to address the theme :

- a) What changes or adaptations must English-speaking immigrants and their families undertake in order to find a job?
