NATURAL RESOURCES CANADA (NRCan) HAS PROVIDED RESPONSES TO THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS:

- Q1. If there is any 2D CAD (.dxf, .dwg file extensions) or preferably 3D data (any file extension/format available), could you request it from the originating department as it will not only greatly assist during actual fabrication but during quoting as well.
- A1. Drawings can be provided in electronic format in files of the ".prt", ".xpr", and ".asm" formats. Verification of the electronic format or conversion to other types must be performed by the bidder. NRCan is currently establishing an FTP server for distribution of the drawings. It is the Bidders responsibility to request the server address and password, in writing, from the Contracting Authority in a timely fashion.
- Q2. Advise if all units are to be supplied in "kit" form or fully assembled.
- A2. The pre-production units for evaluation purposes must be delivered in assembled form. Further units should be delivered in kit form; however components internal to the enclosures must be assembled by the contractor.
- Q3. Advise any required material finish, alternately mill finish acceptability.
- A3. The units may be delivered in mill finish. Sharp edges and burrs must be removed and welds ground.
- Q4. Confirm ACAD drawings will be provided.
- A4. See question 1.
- Q5. This intended bidder was unable to attend scheduled viewing of prototype unit but would like to inspect a sample unit if possible. Would there be a unit in Nova Scotia or Maritimes that would be available to view?
- A5. Unfortunately there are no units of this design available in Nova Scotia or other east coast areas.
