This amendment 007 is raised to answer questions received from industry as follows:

Q15: In the bid solicitation it states that "Table bases must accommodate surfaces ranging from 24" to 30" deep and 48" to 72" long." Would there need to be any room from the outside of the base to the side of the table surface? I know for most models of height adjustable bases there is room left to allow the surface to "overhang" the base, in which case how much room would be required for this if any?

A15: No, overhang not required.

Q16: As a follow up to my previous question, the dimensions stated for the table surfaces don't include the usual reduction for pinch points. Will these surfaces/bases be used in conjunction with panel systems and thus require the 2" reduction which would in turn require an adjustment to the table base side to side adjustable range?

A16: Yes. Please refer to Annex A, 2.4 "All products must meet CAN/CGSB-04.227-2008."

Q17: Amendment 004 - Q7 asks about the requirements of assembly. Does this indicate there should be assembly completed in a staging area when the product arrives at location or should it already be assembled when it arrives? If we shipped our assembled bases (support bar, legs, feet and electrical) to you rather than their knocked down parts they would come in at around 400 oversized skids. Do you have the facilities necessary to hold this number of skids?

A17: We do not have the facilities to house over 400 skids. Bases are to be assembled on site in the area attached to our loading dock. They will be stored in this area as well. Our team will move them if and when required. Leave the wires/control box attached to the leg.

All other Terms and Conditions remain unchanged.
