This Amendment number 002 is raised to include questions and answers in reference to this Request for Information.

Question #1

Could you please clarify whether this request for information (RFI) is intended only for design-builders (DB) or architects, consultants and contractors as described in section 4.

If so, some of the questions that apply only to Designers-Builders may be marked N/A for our organization?

We are a firm whose specialty is a specialized sub-area of expertise, physical security, and our comments would be related to the skills of a firm like ours, when an invitation to tender is issued, to find interested parties, such as Designer-Builders, with whom we would have the best synergy that would be interested in offering their services.

Answer #1

The purpose of the RFI is to seek sufficient information from organizations to determine what is currently available in the industry and gain direction in proceeding with the establishment of a new SA procurement vehicle. Any organization, including experienced design-builders, architects, consultants, contractors are invited to submit a response regarding the design-build SA approach. Although responses should be as comprehensive as possible, it is understood that, for various reasons, potential respondents may be unable to provide some of the information requested. Provision of whatever information is available would be appreciated.

Responses to questions can be marked N/A if they do not apply.
