This amendment is raised to provide the following clarification:

Q1. We would like to clarify Door No. D324C under drawing no. A4.5 (Door Schedule) Door type indicates type B but no elev. drawing for type B. Is this just a flush door? Also core indicates SC (Solid Core) is it insulated or just HC (Honeycomb)? Please advise so we can price accordingly.

A. These doors are to be flush doors Type A. They are double doors. They do not need to be insulated so HC (Honeycomb) is acceptable.

Q2.

1. By relocating all existing speakers from the second-floor training room to the first floor, paging capability is lost from that area. I assume that you will want the sound masking system to also provide paging in that area. Please confirm.

A. There is no relocation of speakers between floors.

2. If so, a conductor (likely a 16/2~; depends on distance) will be required from the existing PA system to the sound masking head-end.

A. See response to item 1 above.

3. A conductor from the fire alarm system will also be required from the F/A output to the sound masking head-end.

A. Refer to Drawing E2.7/Keynote 8.

5. Please note that our proposed sound masking system meets and exceeds all the design and performance requirements of this specification as set forth. We believe the sound masking system we are proposing (Lencore) will provide the coverage required in that space with 60 speakers. Is this acceptable, or are we required to install 72 speakers as shown on drawing E2.7?

A. Provide speaker layout as per drawings.
