

DOOR TO BE KEPT CLOSED AT SEA
EXCEPT WHEN NECESSARY FOR THE WORKING OF THE SHIP

The image shows a white door in a ship's interior. A hydraulic cylinder is attached to the bottom of the door, extending horizontally. Above the door, a sign reads: "DOOR TO BE KEPT CLOSED AT SEA EXCEPT WHEN NECESSARY FOR THE WORKING OF THE SHIP". To the left of the door, there is a red and white structure. To the right, there are white pipes and a staircase. The door has some yellowish stains on it.
