- Q2: How is the heritage experience of bidders evaluated?
A2.1: We are looking for experience with projects of similar scope, close in type and magnitude.
A2.2: Historical designation / Formal Recognition of project assets does not factor into point grading but should be provided for clarity.
- Q3: Who is the Authority having jurisdiction?
A3.1: Generally - Federal. Health and safety is inspected by MOL (provincial). No building permits are required, applicable codes and standards are listed in the RFP.
- Q4: What is the difference between Thousand Islands Park and Parks Canada?
A4: Parks Canada is a Federal Agency. Thousand Islands Park is one of 39 national parks under Parks Canada management.
- Q5: Which WSP office leads the consulting for this project?
A5: The consultant for this project is located in the Kingston office. Bidders are reminded that communication during the bidding period is done solely with the Contracting Authority. The consultant must not be consulted during the tendering period as it will be deemed as interfering with the procurement process.
- Q6: Clarify underwater archaeology requirement.
A6: Shoal Tower has an approximately 3m wide ring around the base of it that is considered archaeologically sensitive. The underwater soil and sediments should not be disturbed in this area. No archaeology is planned as part of the project.
