Questions and Answers

- 1) We follow ASME pressure vessel code and with the use of Inconel 625 as the material of construction the highest allowable temperature as specified by ASME for Inconel 625 is 1200°F (649°C). Will this still be accepted?

Yes, 649°C is acceptable. The Statement of Work, Annex A, section 2.8 will be revised to reflect this change.

- 2) We cannot reach the 649°C internal vessel temperature without the voltage requirement of 230V. The wattage using 208V is not enough. Can the lab install 230V?

The Statement of Work, Annex A, section 2.14 will be revised to include 230 VAC as an acceptable power requirement.

- 3) We would like to supply a bench top stand and not a cart stand; is that acceptable?

Yes, a bench top stand is acceptable under section 2.4 of Annex A. In this case, section 2.11 would not apply.

4. We can agree to include shipping charges by UPS Freight in the bid but not custom clearance, administration, custom duties and taxes. Please include in your bid what broker you would like us to use but all charges will be yours.

NRCan's custom broker is Charles Higgerty and the telephone number is 1-613-748-6600.

Financial bids must be submitted in accordance with the Request for Proposal which includes Delivery at Destination. The Contractor will be responsible for all delivery charges, administration, costs and risk of transport and customs clearance, including the payment of customs duties and taxes.

5. We would like to quote in U.S. Dollar and not in Canadian dollar and payment be in U.S. Dollar. Will this be suitable?

Bidders must submit their financial bid in accordance with the Basis of Payment in Annex B. If financial proposals are submitted in US dollars, the price will be converted to Canadian currency using the Bank Of Canada exchange rate on the solicitation closing date for evaluation purposes. If the bid is the successful bid, the contractor can request the contract price to be converted to US dollars.
