- 32-bit resolution, 80 MHz, 10 ppm accuracy

Questions and Answers :

Question 1 :

In Annex A, Statement of Requirement, section 5.3 for modules with eight channels, there is a discrepancy between French and English versions:

- In English version: 24 bits,...204.8 ms/s
- In French version: 24 bits,...204.8 Ks/s

What is the great data?

Answer 1 :

Unit is kS/s (kilo Sample/seconde)

Question 2 :

In Annex A, Statement of Requirement, section 5.3 for modules with six channels, there is a discrepancy between French and English versions:

- In French versions: 16 bits,...2 Ms/s?
- In English versions : 2 ms/s?

It seems that the capital letters are important, is it possible to confirm what is the correct data?

Answer 2 :

Unit is MS/s (Mega Sample/seconde)

Question 3 :

In the Statement of requirement, the language of Work is in French. Is it possible for the training to be delivered in English?

Answer 3 :

The training could be in French or in English.

Question 4 :

Regarding the method of selection chosen, if we only met the minimum, it is penalizing, as per no point will be given to provide it. Is it possible to modify the method of selection?

Answer 4:

Method of selection will not be changed. Mandatory criteria are necessary to us to perform jobs. Point-rated criteria are not essential characteristics to perform trials, but which would be very useful.

Question 5 :

In section 5.3, the system needs to have a module as follows:

Thermocouple module of 8 channels
Thermocouple reading of types: K, J, T, E, R
12 samples / second / channel, simultaneous sampling
Connection cable and termination

However, this module is not required in Mandatory criteria section. Does it mean that we have not to include this module in our proposal?

Answer 5 :

As specified in Request for proposal at Part 4, article 4.1.1 « Technical Evaluation »:

[...]Although the bidders must proposed products that meet all the specifications and technical components described in the Annex A, at the closure date, bids will be evaluated on the technical requirements of mandatory technical criteria and point rated technical criteria.

Items 5.1, 5.2, 5.3, 5.4 and 5.5 of the statement of requirements must be included in submission.

All other terms and conditions remain unchanged.
