Amendment 004 has been raised to modify the Request for Standing Offer (RFSO) and publish answers to all questions received to date.

A. MODIFICATION TO RFP

- A1. Amendment 003 is deleted in its entirety and its contents re-published below with sequential numbering to reduce ambiguity.

B. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

- Q2. The detection levels listed are very aggressive by industry standards and given the contamination levels experienced in the field such low detection levels seem unnecessarily challenging. Would alternative minimum alarm levels be considered?
- A2. No. The requirements set by Canada are operationally based and are needed to combat the aggressive and creative ways that criminal entities use to smuggle contraband into the country.
- Q3. We do not use a radioactive source (we use a HEPI source) we use a single tube design, would this be acceptable?
- A3. No, the instrument must use a radioactive source.
- Q4. Fentanyl is not yet in the library (under test), can it be removed?
- A4. No, the instrument must analyze all of the analytes listed, including fentanyl.

ALL OTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE REQUEST FOR STANDING OFFER REMAIN UNCHANGED.
