AMENDMENT 003

This Request for Standing Offer (RFSO) amendment (003) is raised to provide clarifications sought by Industry, update and release a revised version of Annex A – Requirement – Parts Item List and Annex F – Microsoft Excel® Workbook on the web site buyandsell.gc.ca.

1. Questions and Answers:

- Question 9:
- a) How should Industry handle the minimum order quantities for line item numbers with no minimum order quantity (MOQ)? For example: if there would be a MOQ of 6 pcs. should industry take the price for 6 pcs. and enter it in the quantity 1-5 pcs.?
 - b) Industry is requesting confirmation regarding some mandatories. (1) If 2,725 is 70% of the total Line Items (3898) then Offerors must be able to provide at least 2,725 of the Line Items in the RFSO. If 20% of 3898 = 779 then Offerors must have the best score for at least 779 Line items in the RFSO and will be awarded a Standing Offer.
 - c) The baseline of 3893 items can only be reduced if a Line Item is not offered by any bidder?
 - d) For the following line items Industry is not in the position to bid, because of missing information. (173, 647, 845, 967, 1013, 2141, 2142, 2143, 2144, 2893, 2928, 3006, 3160, 3182, 3346, 3362).

- Answer 9:
- a) Canada will accept the MOQ for only the Consumables List. Canada will not accept the MOQ for any line items on the Spare Parts List and require a unit price (QTY 1 to 5).
 - b) Correct, but the calculations will change when a revised excel workbook is downloaded on BuyandSell.
 - c) The baseline can only be reduced only when Canada deletes a line item before the RFSO closing date such as in version 3 of the excel workbook (deleted items are described in the bottom of the worksheet in all tabs).
 - d) The answer for this question was previously provided on BuyandSell under amendment 001 dated January 23rd, 2019.

- Question 10:
- a) Industry has noted, in article 3.2 of Part 3 of the Bid Preparation Instructions, that there is no requirement to provide the minimum order quantity (MOQ) for each line item number of the Spare Parts List. Yet, the MOQ is required for the Consumables List. Industry believes that a MOQ should be for ALL line items of Annex F. Having said this, would it be possible for Canada to provide a new Annex F that would allow Industry to insert a MOQ for all parts?
 - b) How will Canada proceed with parts procurement for items listed in the Spare Parts List for which a given supplier has set a minimum order quantity?
 - c) After verification with the Nata Support and Procurement Agency (NSPA), the following Line items were indicated as being cancelled and replaced as follows:

Line item	Nato Stock Number (NSN)	Replacement NSN
708	4330-12-390-7881	2910-12-362-4472
1196	3110-00-114-6000	3110-00-097-6353

Would Canada be able to confirm whether or not changes will be made to Annex F to consider these replacements?

Answer 10: a) See answer (9a).

b) Canada cannot provide Industry with any additional directions other than what was answered in answer 9a).

c) Canada has made the following changes to the workbook:

LI - 708 Replace NSN with 2910-12-362-4472

LI - 1196 DELETED

LI - 3669 DELETED

Question 11: According to the NSPA the manufacturer for the NSN 5895200094339 (Line Item # 300) is the DIRECTOR GENERAL MATERIEL AND SUPPLY CHAIN (DGMSSC). Could Canada please let the Industry know who the real manufacturer is, because even when Industry goggled the P/N they could not find a manufacturer? Right now Industry would not be able to offer this item.

Answer 11: Canada has deleted LI number 300, NSN 5895-20-009-4339.

Question 12: Industry is requesting an extension to the closing date (2019/03/29 14:00 Eastern Standard Time (EST)).

Answer 12: Canada grants Industry an extension until 2019/05/31 14:00 Eastern Standard Time (EST).
