GENERAL NOTES

1. Refer to the graphic production schedule for exhibit reference numbers, graphic component descriptions, quantities, production method, substrates, and mounting methods.
  2. Dimensions are measured in millimeters unless noted otherwise. Final dimensions to be determined and confirmed on site by Parks Canada.
  3. ALL dimensions shown are approximate visible graphic areas only; fabricator to co-ordinate bleed areas as required to fit final millwork pieces.
  4. Fabricator to confirm final dimensions, locations, on site and quantities prior to fabrication and installation.
  5. Fabricators to coordinate graphic components to integrate with exhibit specimen displays and adjacent exhibit components (interactives, inforails, exhibit walls, in-case elements, panels, lighting, display cases etc.) prior to fabrication and installation.
  6. Refer to EXA Exhibit Architecture Drawings Package for interactives sketches, exhibit substrate verification and detailing, for general indication of graphic components, and integration with exhibit components. Special attention is to be paid to inforails and graphic panels that integrate graphic and interactive components.
  7. Contractor to be responsible for adjustments, if necessary, to graphic components, interactive components, or exhibit substrate (such as inforails, millwork cabinetry, etc.) for the integration of the final product.
  8. Contractor shall show location of joints or seams between graphics panels on production proofs submitted for approval.
- This document is cross-referenced and must be read in conjunction with the following:

Interpretive Plan for Prince Albert National Park

November 1, 2018

Main Theme: The park is on the edge of two natural regions, the boreal forest to the north and the aspen parkland to the south.

This blending results in a higher diversity of life than in either ecosystem alone.

Species selection will evolve over the process of the project to ensure a wide variety of animals are showcased.

A stylized blue bird with its wings spread wide, centered on a white background. The bird is depicted in a symmetrical, almost abstract manner, with a long, pointed beak and a tail that tapers to a point. The wings are large and feature a lighter blue, feather-like texture. The overall design is clean and minimalist, with a focus on the bird's silhouette and wing spread.
