Annex A – Part 7 Technical Specifications, Table 5, Table 6, Table 7

Question 002:

What is the required yield for the Drink Mixes?

Answer 002:

There is no required yield for the drink mixes. As the specification sheet indicates: A dotted water level line must be printed across the width of the pouch to indicate the water level for rehydration of the protein drink. The water level must be determined by the contractor.

Question 003:

Dimensions: Could the pouch dimension be altered? Our current equipment has a maximum height and we would like to know if the dimension could be altered.

Overall pouch size seems large if yield is 250 mL.

Answer 003:

The pouch dimensions cannot be altered and must meet the dimensions indicated in the specification sheet. The required dimensions are necessary in order to provide enough head space when rehydrating/shaking the drink mix. The head space helps braking the lumps in the drink. The soldiers do not have access to any other accessory to shake the drinks. Multiple testings have been performed in order to determine the optimal dimensions of the bags.

Question 004:

Material: Is it mandatory for the pouch to have a zip lock closure or would a fold over be acceptable?

Answer 004:

The zip lock is mandatory. Fold over will not be accepted.

ALL OTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS REMAIN THE SAME.
