Question 43

We would like to respectfully request an extension until September 4th. We realize that the client has a timeline to consider, however with the long weekend coming up, and the recent changes regarding references in place of project descriptions while many people are on vacation, the current deadline presents a number of challenges – even for highly qualified firms with Tier 2 clients in this space.

A very short extension would be much appreciated. We suspect the bids may not be reviewed until after the long weekend as it stands, and so we suspect this request will not create any added delays on the part of the client.

Answer 43

The solicitation period will be extended until September 4th, 2019.
