DELIVERABLE PRODUCTS

After awarding the contract, the supplier must submit the shop drawings for the products they are supplying. The architect reviews shop drawings merely to ensure they comply with the general design. This review does not mean that the architect approves the detailed design related to the shop drawing: This responsibility remains that of the contractor that submits them. In addition, such a review does not relieve the contractor from its responsibility for all errors or omissions in the shop drawings or for complying with construction requirements and contract documents. Do not undertake manufacturing work before the shop drawings and samples have been submitted to and reviewed by the architect.

All material must be delivered within 2 weeks after obtaining approval.
