SOLICITATION AMENDMENT

Solicitation Amendment 002 is issued to address bidder enquiries.

Bidder Enquiries:

Q1: Do the garage doors require installation?

A1: Yes, the garage doors require installation.

This response corrects a typo in Q3 of Solicitation Amendment 001.

Q2: How frequently and over what distance does DFO expect to move the structure?

A2: Unknown at this time. The term 'portable' is meant to cover a range of options. The major defining difference between portable and permanent being that with effort this portable structure could be moved to another area of the facility or deconstructed (in modules, or parts) and transported to another site, whereas a permanent building could not. We hope that we will not have to do this, but would like to keep this as a possibility if required.

Q3: We would anticipate the foundation required to support a pre-engineered steel building of the nature and size described to be more substantial than steel plates (with some form of height adjustment) shallow-anchored to the surface of the existing asphalt/concrete pad. Has DFO consulted with a structural engineer to confirm minimum requirements and potential options?

A3: No consultation has been done. As we do not know what the final product will be, it would be too difficult to have an engineer ascertain what confirm requirements.

Q4: Do the garage doors require insulation?

A4: No, the garage doors do not require insulation.

All other terms and conditions remain the same.
