Amendment 014

This amendment is raised to request additional information related to the CHER project and to publish questions and answers.

1. Questions to industry

Canada is considering applying the Canadian Content Policy (CCP) to Bundles 2 (Training Simulators), 6 (Rough Terrain Forklifts), and 7 (Trailers) of the Common Heavy Equipment Replacement (CHER) project, in lieu of other economic leveraging tools such as the Industrial and Technological Benefits (ITB) Policy.

The CCP encourages industrial development in Canada by limiting, in specific circumstances, competition for government procurement opportunities to suppliers of Canadian goods and services. The CCP includes requirements related to a minimum percentage of goods and services that are provided or manufactured in Canada and can only apply when there are two or more suppliers that meet the eligibility criteria. Therefore, Canada requires more information with respect to the number of potential suppliers that would meet these requirements.

More information on the CCP, including specific requirements, can be found at:
<https://buyandsell.gc.ca/policy-and-guidelines/supply-manual/section/3/130>

The CHER project is looking for industry feedback on the option to conditionally limit Bundles 2, 6, and 7 to Canadian goods and Canadian services.

Bundle 2 (Training Simulators)

1. Please indicate to what extent your company can provide goods and/or services that meet the eligibility criteria identified in the CCP for Canadian Content Certification for the equipment identified in bundle 2.
2. Please indicate to what extent your company can provide goods and/or services that meet the eligibility criteria identified in the CCP for Canadian Content Certification for the long-term sustainment of bundle 2.

Bundle 6 (Rough Terrain Forklifts)

3. Please indicate to what extent your company can provide goods and/or services that meet the eligibility criteria identified in the CCP for Canadian Content Certification for the equipment identified in bundle 6.
4. Please indicate to what extent your company can provide goods and/or services that meet the eligibility criteria identified in the CCP for Canadian Content Certification for the long-term sustainment of bundle 6.

Bundle 7 (Trailers)

5. Please indicate to what extent your company can provide goods and/or services that meet the eligibility criteria identified in the CCP for Canadian Content Certification for the equipment identified in bundle 7.

6. Please indicate to what extent your company can provide goods and/or services that meet the eligibility criteria identified in the CCP for Canadian Content Certification for the long-term sustainment of bundle 7.

2. Questions from industry with answers

Bundle 6 – Material Handling Equipment

Q1. What is meant by self-loading onto a trailer?

A1. Self-loading onto a trailer means that the vehicle must drive onto a beavertail trailer or a float trailer using its own power.

Q2. Is it the intention for the Rough Terrain Fork Lift (Light) (RTFL-L) or any of the other versions to self-load without ramps?

A2. The intention is to use ramps to load the material handling equipment onto the trailer.

All other terms and conditions remain unchanged.
