Amendment 003

This amendment is being raised to answer industry questions:

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Q1. Due to the intention of considering international suppliers, will the related RFP be limited to companies with Canadian welding certification (CWB certificate), or will other welding certifications also be acceptable?

A1. The current requirement is:

The Contractor must demonstrate that the firm, their facilities, processes, and welders are certified to CSA W47.2-11 (R2015), Certification of Companies for Fusion Welding of Aluminum, Division 1 or 2; welding workmanship must satisfy CSA W59.2-18, Welded Aluminum Construction. In lieu of the Canadian Standards specified, certification to the same elements in ISO 3834-2:2005, Quality Requirements for Fusion Welding of Metallic Materials will be considered equivalent, if performed by an International Institute of Welding Authorized Nominated Body for Company Certification (IIW-ANBCC). If following ISO 3834-2:2005, the company must retain the services of a registered professional welding engineer responsible for welding-related activities.
