Question 1:

Has there been an incumbent providing these services in the past 12 months? If so, please provide the name of the incumbent supplier, the contract duration, and the contract value.

Answer 1:

No, there has not been an incumbent providing these services in the past 12 months.

Question 2:

MT.1 indicates that the proposed resource must hold a post-secondary degree in Electrical Engineering or the equivalent. Would the Crown also accept a post-secondary degree in Computer Engineering from a recognized University to fulfill this requirement?

Answer 2:

No, this position is for the Engineering section and the ability to understand the electrical drawing and vetronica subsystems of our military platform is critical for the tasks delivery. Hence the requirement for solid a foundation in electrical engineering.

Question 3:

MT.2 indicates that the proposed resource must hold a post graduate degree such as a Masters in Computer Science or Business Administration or equivalent. Would the Crown also accept a Masters of Engineering to fulfill this requirement?

Answer 3:

No. It is important to note that the candidate needs to have electrical engineering as a base, and having the computer science or Business Administration degree is important due to nature of wide and complex client and stakeholders interactions and requirements. However, we are willing to consider Master of Electrical Engineering or Telecommunication engineering but not other disciplines such as Civil Engineer, or Manufacturing engineering etc..
