3. Questions & Answers

Q1

Reference Compliance Matrix - Mandatory Performance Specifications

Item # 1 specifies "Sennheiser PROAV SR 2050XP IEM-Aw+ 504057"

The North American Aw+ frequency range is 470 - 558 MHz. – the corresponding Sennheiser part # is 508636. However, item 1.1 states that the requirement is to "Operate within the frequency range of Aw (516/558 Megahertz(Mhz)).", which would apply to item# 504057. Thus, the specification seems to ask for two different items. Please clarify

A1

Any Frequency range that includes but extends past the required range is acceptable in this case. (the required range must be included in the operating frequency range).

Q2

Reference Compliance Matrix - Mandatory Performance Specifications

Item #2 specifies "Sennheiser PROAV EK 2000 IEM Aw+ 503153".

Sennheiser part # 503153 is the master part number for the EK 2000 IEM. This item is available in a number of different frequency ranges throughout the world to satisfy specific geographical requirements. The part number for the EK 2000 in North American frequency range Aw+ is 508637. Would this part number be acceptable?

A2

508637 is essentially the new part number to replace the 503153 in the product line as a manufacturer update. This part number 508637 is acceptable and preferred over 503153. (A mix of part numbers per component will not be acceptable)

ALL OTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS REMAIN THE SAME
