Answer 5:

There is no minimum guaranteed that DND would place on any order.

Question 6:

Unit Size for Item # 24 Baking Cups reads 10? Estimated usage is also in increments of 10, how many baking cups are actually required. These are not available in boxes of 10.

Answer 6:

The unit size of 10 is to be replaced with 10,000. In total over the 5 locations the annual estimated usage is 90,000 cases.

Question 7:

While going through payment terms, what I understand is that we will be paid on the day of call-up for the amount of order placed. Is it right, can you please confirm?

Answer 7:

No, that is not correct. Please see clarification on point 7.5 and also review point 7.4.2.

Question 8:

Can you adjust the unit sizes for the basis of payment? The quantities required are different than our normal case sizes.

Answer 8:

No, you MUST bid in the unit size given in the basis of payment. You will have to do the calculations to come up with price if this is not your standard unit size. This is to ensure that all suppliers will be bidding in the same unit size for evaluation purposes. You MUST also input the supplier unit size and price in the appropriate columns on the basis of payment. This will be used for standing offer issuance.

Question 9:

Can you provide the basis of payment in excel format?

Answer 9:

Yes, this will be posted on buy and sell.
