Questions and Answers

Question 8:

I have another question. In the two closed offices there is a note on the CAD plan that says requires installation of 2 duplex receptacles and data ports. Do they mean for the wall? Or should I be specifying separate power stations for these desks? Not sure whether that note is for us or not.

I have another question. In the two closed offices there is a note on the CAD plan that says requires installation of 2 duplex receptacles and data ports. Do they mean for the wall? Or should I be specifying separate power stations for these desks? Not sure whether that note is for us or not.

Answer 8:

This note is for our design team, the outlets will not need to be included in any proposal.

Question 9:

With the extensions that have come out, will the client be adjusting their 'delivery/install' dates on the RFB form or should we just add in what our lead times are and give the dates as they relate to the day the bid is submitted?

Answer 9:

The earliest possible option should be given for delivery and installation dates.
