AMENDMENT 005

Amendment #005 is raised to respond to questions received.

A. QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

- Q12 Can the government confirm that both products that are known to them can meet the “references” requirements stated within the solicitation? The response to question 9 contradicts the solicitation requirement stated in 4.1.2.1.1 Offer Samples and Supporting documentation, B) Supporting Documentation, References (page 17) where it states “The Offeror must provide a letter of reference from three different law enforcement agencies that the Offeror has supplied within the last 5 years. The letters must confirm that the manufacturer of the product submitted in the bid has a combined minimum of 5 years of experience supplying law enforcement agencies with the same or other baton made by the manufacturer. The letters of reference must include contact details for the reference (name, contact number and email address).
- A12 As per Article 4.1.2.1.1, the references could be for either the baton being offered or another baton made by the manufacturer of the baton being offered.
- Q13 Reference amendment 001, Q4 and A4. Why was the mandatory hardness amended to only the end shaft? Historically the RCMP has always required all shafts to have this hardness, yet the most recent PD-PE-77 where they added a max weight doesn't permit the manufactures to harden all shafts. Having different hardness in the shafts will cause closing issues (baton being locked open) and will not be compliant to 4.6 Mechanism for Collapse of PD-PE-77. This issue has been identified by numerous LE agencies. Will the RCMP be testing these batons to ensure that this closing issue has been addressed?
- A13 Regardless of what the RCMP has required in the past, the new requirement is based on the specification contained in the solicitation. The RCMP will be testing these batons in accordance with Annex E - Evaluation Grid.

All other terms and conditions remain the same.
