This amendment is raised to:

1. Modify the clause 1.2.6 of this Request For a Standing Offer;
2. Answer questions sent by offerors;
3. Attach the presentations held at the bidders' conference; And
4. Update the SUR codes.

1. DELETE clause 1.2.6 - in its entirety and replace with:

1.2.6 The period of the Standing Offer shall be from award to Mar 31, 2023 plus two (2) additional 1 year optional periods.

2. QUESTION AND ANSWER :

1. How will you divide the trades among the SO holders?

Expectation is that all SO holders (Offerors) will deliver services in all trades.

If over the course of the SO, the highest ranked Offeror is unable to deliver services in one or more trades, temporarily or permanently, CHFA may engage the Offeror ranked #2 and/or the Offeror ranked #3 for the delivery of the services.

The highest ranked Offeror is always given the first consideration. CFHA may direct work to #2 or #3, and will engage with them prior to issuing work.

Please refer to RFSO clause 7.8. Call-up Procedures.

2. Question on trade "Concrete" (CP)

Page 117/338, code CF1935EV, base rate price is $79.70 per sq.m. (actually, it should be easier if it would be in sq.f.). The current market rate is 2.5 that amount. Is it appropriate to bid 250%?

Bidders can bid any percentage they deem appropriate to ensure that their Percentage Offer will result in a fair profit margin (refer to Attachment 1 To Part 3, Pricing Schedule).

The percentage offer for one trade will apply to all codes under such trade.

Bidders are aware that it is a competitive process, award will be based on the lowest evaluated price. The evaluated price is the sum of Percentage Offers for all the trades.

3. Do those houses require a lot of work? We looked on some of them. Some linoleum is very old. Looked like they were all built in 50-60s. How much do you estimate to spend in a year?500K across Canada may not be a lot.

Please refer to clause 1.2.2 that provides estimated value for the duration of the SO, including option years.

E.g. MJ-01 – estimate is $4,000,000 Applicable Taxes excluded, i.e. estimated expenditure is $1 million a year. We do not provide estimate breakdown by trade, or by year. CFHA is not obligated to spend the estimated value. Also, CFHA may add funds if required, if actual expenditures under the SO exceed the estimate.

4. Contractors cannot use water or power when working in the houses. It would be more expensive to Canada.

When doing work on an unoccupied houses, usage of utilities is generally approved by CFHA. The Offeror needs to request approval from CFHA. Please refer to Annex A Statement of Work, para 9 Site Amenities for details.

When doing work in occupied houses: given that occupants are responsible for paying the utilities, occupants may approve contractors' usage of the utilities but are under no obligation to do so. An occupant's approval is not guaranteed, and if so granted can be withdrawn anytime by the occupant. In most cases, however, occupants approve contractors' usage of utilities. The terms of the SO does not oblige CFHA to provide utilities to the Offeror.

5. Annex A Statement of Work, para 12.1.3 states that the Contractor shall not move furniture for the performance of the Work. Who is going to do this work?

When doing work in an occupied house, it is the occupants' responsibility to move the furniture to prepare the work site.

When doing work in an unoccupied houses, there should be no furniture.

6. When a contractor requests any product replacement, how long will CFHA provide an approval.

There is no specific timeline, however CFHA will do their best to provide a response as soon as feasible, often within a day or less, depending on the circumstances. Please refer to Annex A Statement of Work, para 7. Trade and Brand Names.

3. THE PRESENTATIONS HELD AT THE BIDDERS' CONFERENCE:

4. DELETE Appendix 5 - SUR Code Selection List in its entirety and replace with:

ALL REMAINING TERMS AND CONDITIONS ARE UNCHANGED

Price Adjustment: CPI application

Canadian Forces
Housing Agency

Agence de logement
des Forces canadiennes

To allow for inflation and other economical factors price adjustment will be made in accordance with the percentage change in the Bank of Canada CORE Consumer Price Index (CPI):

- The price adjustment will apply to the Schedule of Unit Rates (SUR), hourly rate(s) and unit prices,
- Will take place twice: if and when Option 1 and if and when Option 2 is exercised.
- The first adjustment is calculated as the percentage change in the CPI between the January 2020 and January 2023
- The second adjustment is calculated as the percentage change in the CPI between January 2023 and January 2024
- The price adjustment will be in effect during the Option periods only (first one April 1, 2023 –Mar 31, 2024, second one April 1, 2024 – March 31, 2025)

Price Structure

➤ SUR codes (Annex B Basis of Payment)

- Base price to which a percentage bid is applied.
- Includes labour, time, travel, material, plant, fuel, overhead, wastage and profit.

Offerors should analyze the Schedule of Unit Rates in detail to ensure that their Percentage Offer will result in a fair profit margin.

➤ Time and Material (RFSO para 8.6.5)

➤ Payment for After Hours Work (RFSO para 8.6.6)

- 1.5 times the regular hourly rate for actual work only
- regular hourly rate for the total travel time (the sum of To and From the Contractor's business address), rounded up to the next hour to a maximum of 2 hours.

Requirement: Annual Work Planning

Canadian Forces
Housing Agency    Agence de logement
des Forces canadiennes

- ☐ CFHA occupants move most frequently during the months of April to September annually. This is called our Active Posting Season.
- ☐ The timing for work and resourcing is critical during this time period.
- ☐ This is not to say that CFHA is not busy during the remaining months of the year.
- ☐ SUR Usage Report provided within Appendix 5 can be utilized to assist in structuring business plans, estimating work flow and the required resources and financial bid.
