

Important information about receiving Canada Pension Plan Disability (CPPD) benefits

As a CPPD recipient, you must inform Service Canada of any changes regarding your:

- Personal Information – your address, phone number, direct deposit information.
- Medical Condition – if your health improves enough that you may be able to return to work.
- Work Activity – if you would like to try working again, you begin to work, or as soon as you have earned $6,100. Your benefit is not stopped at this point; it is an opportunity for Service Canada to provide assistance to help with your return to work.
- Education, Training Program or Volunteering – this includes attending school, college, university, or a trade or technical training program leading to a certification or degree, attending a rehabilitation program, or performing more than 15 hours of volunteer work per week on an ongoing basis.
- Children – when a dependent child enters or leaves your custody.

When you turn 65, your CPPD benefit automatically changes to a CPP retirement pension, which will likely be less than your disability benefit. This decrease is often offset by the Old Age Security (OAS) pension and, depending on your income, the Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS).

CPPD benefits are taxable. To have tax withheld from your CPPD benefit, complete and return Form ISP-3520, Request for Voluntary Federal Income Tax Deductions, to Service Canada.
