Description of the Requirement:

Tendering Process: Selective Tendering

Category/ Stream: 2.12 Evaluation Services Consultant, Intermediate Level.

The Department of Foreign Affairs, Trade and Development (DFATD) has a requirement for an Indigenous Evaluation Services Consultant, Intermediate level, for the purpose of informing partners and GAC of recommendations for enhancing the implementation of the International Aboriginal Youth Internships (IAYI) initiative. The IAYI initiative offers Indigenous Canadian youth between the ages of 18 and 35 who possess a secondary school diploma (or equivalent certification) the opportunity to gain professional experience abroad in the field of international development. There are several stakeholders in this project and GAC is striving to integrate input from Indigenous youth in a meaningful way as part of this review.

The specific objectives of the review are to

- Increase project stakeholders' knowledge of best practices for Indigenous-specific youth programs in Canada.
- Assess the strengths and weaknesses of the various approaches used by the IAYI Implementing Partners in relation to recruitment, data collection, youth coaching, and inclusion, in order to ensure participant diversity.
- Evaluate the relevance of the IAYI program to stakeholder groups, particularly Indigenous youth, Indigenous communities, and local partners. Consider how the program could be enhanced to ensure its relevance.
- Identify findings, conclusions, recommendations and lessons learned to fulfill the purpose of this review.
