Amendment 002 has been raised to answer the following questions:

- Can the areas required to be cut at Class I heights be highlighted on a map separately from those of Cut II areas?
No as some areas are in a secure area and maps of that area are not to be given out. That being said the vendor can use the SOW and Google Maps to get an idea of the area.
- It notes, miscellaneous cutting could include removal of small trees and shrubs. Is it expected hand tools and mowers will be able to remove? Or are they larger with the expectation an arborist with chainsaws is required to cut back this debris?
It is expected that hand tools and mowers will be able to handle the removal of the small trees and shrubs.
- What notice is provided by the Engineer before crews are expected to be dispatched on-site?
The contractor will be expected to be on site with-in 7 days of the purchase order being issued.
- Is there an expectation the completion of trimming and mowing Class I Cut Area take a certain amount of days to complete?
No not at this time but the contractor will be expected to be on site mowing daily weather permitting from the start of the purchase order until it is completed.
- Is there an expectation the completion of trimming and mowing Class II Cut Area take a certain amount of days to complete?
No not at this time but the contractor will be expected to be on site mowing daily weather permitting from the start of the purchase order until it is completed.
- Due to the security limitations, is there a maximum number of team members that are allotted in these areas?
There is no Maximum number of team members but they must all have the required security screening completed
- What is the date range for the first cut i.e. beginning of May, mid-May or end of May?
The first cut date range would be around end May to the beginning of June.

All other terms and conditions remain the same.
