QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

For questions 1 to 11 please consult solicitation amendments 001 and 002

Q12: Re CAT1B item 10 qty 2 72"W hutches, should one of these be 66"W 1bHHCLS15L66XBPXXKX to go along with item 6 1bFFHREL24L66WNOLNY?

A12: Please see response to Q10

Q13: Please confirm that the panels with Overhead cabinets can be 66"H, or should all panels be the same seated privacy height.

A13: All panels to remain seated privacy height. See response to Q14 for adjustment.

Q14: Panel mounted Overheads - we note that the panel heights have been increased to seated privacy (50" - 54"). With panel mounted overheads, this still places the overhead at a height that is too low to be functional (As overheads are typically 15"-16" high, the bottom of the overhead will only be 5" - 10" above the work surface depending on the finished panel height) This issue can be solved by changing the overhead to up-mounted laminate overhead with flipper doors, 36" w, GoCuid 1bHOCLU15L36XFTXXKX. This mounting method places the bottom of the overhead at the top of the panel 50" - 54".

A14: This change is acceptable. Please see solicitation amendment below.

Q15: The full, legible floor plan still does not show the location of the 5 height adjustable tables (Category 2, Line 12 on RFB tables)

A15: Height adjustable tables are clearly marked as such in the AutoCAD drawing

Q16: Office 105D - as we now have a complete drawing of this office, there are additional items that need to be addressed as the items as drawn will not work together.

- a. 72" hutch along the side wall - Surface mounted hutches must be installed on a desk with full gables for proper support. This will work, but create knee interference for the user. Alternately, the desk components can be specified as per AMD 002 with C-Legs on the 48" w bridge worksurface, and a wall mounted overhead can be specified in lieu of the hutch as it does not use the desk for support.
- b. Additionally, Item 7 on the RFB Table appears to be the rear worksurface in office 105D, listed as 72" wide, but on the drawing it measures 66" wide. A file cabinet not included in this bid is shown beside the rear worksurface meaning that only the 66" wide surface will fit. Please revise RFB table to indicate the correct quantity and size for this item.

A16:

- a. 48" surface to be amended to full gables. See solicitation amendment below.
- b. Surface should be 66" wide. See solicitation amendment below.
