Question and Answers

Q1. In Section 3.2.5 Achievements of Proponent on Projects it indicates that the proponent provides 3 projects, and in Section 3.2.6 Achievements of key Sub-consultants and Specialists on Projects it indicates a maximum of 3 projects ...per key sub consultant or specialist.

A1. Section 3.2.5 is intended to show related project experience of the Proponent, clearly demonstrating the requested skill set in handling large scale multidisciplinary projects similar in size and scope of this project. A maximum of 3 of the Proponent's projects will be considered. Additional projects will not be considered. Section 3.2.6 is intended to show the related experience of key sub-consultants and specialists used on the project, whether inhouse resources of the proponent OR external sub-consultant specialists. In this section, the proponent is expected to demonstrate the key specialist experience with up to maximum 3 projects per key sub consultant or specialist.

Q2. In 3.2.6 can the specialist projects (ie, geotechnical, coastal, cost specialist, etc) be from the main proponent? Otherwise, for a firm such as ours where most of the key personnel are in-house, we would be at a disadvantage as far as demonstrating our key project experience.

A2. Response: Specialist projects may be from the main proponent. Section 3.2.6 states "If the Proponent proposes to provide multi-disciplinary services which might otherwise be performed by a sub-consultant, this should be reflected here." A maximum of 3 projects will be considered for each specialist and key personnel. Projects may be used to demonstrate experience for more than one discipline. Clearly indicate the position(s) that each specialist project is to be considered for.
