SECTION 1 – INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this section is to provide general information about the International Development Research Centre (“IDRC” or “Centre”) and this RFP.

1.1 IDRC OVERVIEW

IDRC was established by an act of Canada’s parliament in 1970 with a mandate “to initiate, encourage, support, and conduct research into the problems of the developing regions of the world and into the means for applying and adapting scientific, technical, and other knowledge to the economic and social advancement of those regions.” A Canadian Crown corporation, IDRC supports leading thinkers who advance knowledge and solve practical development problems. IDRC provide the resources, advice, and training they need to implement and share their solutions with those who need them most. In short, IDRC increases opportunities — and makes a real difference in people’s lives. Working with development partners, IDRC multiplies the impact of investment and brings innovations to more people in more countries around the world. IDRC offers fellowships and awards to nurture a new generation of development leaders. IDRC employs about 375 people at the head office located in Ottawa, Canada and in five (5) regional offices located in New Delhi-India, Montevideo-Uruguay, Amman-Jordan, Nairobi-Kenya, and Dakar-Senegal. IDRC is governed by a board of up to 14 governors, whose chairperson reports to Parliament through the Minister of International Development. For more details visit: www.idrc.ca

SECTION 2 – STATEMENT OF WORK

This section is intended to provide Proponents with the information necessary to develop a competitive proposal. The Statement of Work (“SOW”) is a complete description of the tasks to be done, results to be achieved, and/or the goods to be supplied.

2.1 INTRODUCTION AND PROJECT OVERVIEW

The Global Partnership for Education Knowledge and Innovation Exchange (KIX) is a joint endeavor between the Global Partnership for Education (GPE) and the International Development Research Centre (IDRC) to connect expertise, innovation and knowledge to help developing countries build stronger education systems and accelerate progress toward the Sustainable Development Goal on education (SDG 4). The program aims to respond to education challenges and strengthen education systems in over 70 countries across sub-Saharan Africa, the MENA region, Asia, Europe, and Latin America & the Caribbean. Launched in 2019, KIX is a 5-year, CAD $103 million initiative that funds 40 applied research projects focused on key challenges facing education systems across the Global South, as identified through four regional hubs.

Now that the projects are underway, KIX is planning the synthesis of findings that are, or will emerge across KIX-funded projects. KIX seeks to synthesize emerging evidence on scaling education innovations in the Global South to identify and address knowledge and capacity gaps that continue to undermine education systems in developing countries.

KIX requires the support of a consultant to identify the most important themes, plus the best methods, process and approach to synthesize emerging findings from four KIX-funded projects on educational options for children and youth who are out of school and at risk of dropping out. The consultant would work closely with the KIX staff to implement the plan and write up the synthesis around this theme. This is one of multiple synthesis activities KIX is pursuing.

2.2 OBJECTIVES

The main objectives of this project are to:

1. Work with KIX staff and grant recipients to design and implement a plan for KIX to synthesize evidence and insights on educational options for children who are out of school and at risk of dropping out.
2. Implement the synthesis plan, in close collaboration with KIX staff and grant recipients.
3. Identify how best to package the evidence and insights from the synthesis to benefit key audiences listed below.
4. Generate resources to support KIX with the implementation of its synthesis activities (i.e. reports, policy recommendations, dissemination plan, etc.)

2.3 KIX KEY AUDIENCES

The following list represents the key stakeholders that are the target audiences for the results of KIX’ knowledge synthesis:

Primary audience	Description
National representatives of GPE partner countries	GPE provides technical and financial assistance to over 70 developing countries . This user group consists of leaders in education systems, such as government ministries. In the larger KIX program, national representatives help define priorities for KIX funding; participate in KIX projects and use the knowledge, evidence and innovation KIX produces across the sector planning cycle.

Secondary audience	Description
Local Education Group (LEGs)	LEGs are education aid coordination and policy dialogue groups that seek to improve education in developing country partner constituencies. “LEG” generally consists of representatives from international and national civil society organizations, development partners (i.e. donors), other government ministries, and actors such as teacher unions.
International (multilateral) organizations	International organizations play a pivotal role in implementing education programs, supervising grant agreements and the disbursement of funds.
Donors	Donors provide financial and technical assistance to help developing country partners as they design and implement their education strategies.
Philanthropic Organizations	Philanthropic organizations provide a unique blend of strategic, technical and financial support in support of innovations to achieve better results in developing countries.
Research Institutions	Think tanks, universities, NGOs that perform research on innovations and policies in the education sector
Private Sector Companies	The private sector has specialized expertise, resources and networks to tackle some of the most urgent problems facing education systems in developing countries.
District-level Education Managers and schools	District-level Education Leaders and schools play critical roles and have the power to adopt and implement educational options to reach out to children out of school and at risk of dropping out.
Parents and Community Leaders	Parents and community leaders’ support will be key to getting and keeping children in school.

2.4 DESCRIPTION AND SCOPE OF WORK

2.4.1 Project Scope

In Scope:

The scope of work will be divided into 3 phases:

Phase I - Take stock of the results: In Phase I, the consultant will undertake a scan of the evidence and trends available on OOSC in GPE partner countries to identify how evidence from KIX can contribute to the wider international dialogue on this topic. During this phase, the consultant will study the KIX OOSC projects by reading project documents and conducting key informant interviews with KIX staff and the principal investigators of the KIX-funded projects that focus on OOSC. During this exploratory scan the consultant will build on the initial synthesis planning work completed by the KIX team, lessons learned from past IDRC programs that have undertaken a similar synthesis and from there identify an effective approach and process to synthesize information from KIX projects on this theme. This phase will also involve a mapping of the target uses and users of the synthesis. Following the exploratory and planning phase, KIX should have in place a comprehensive plan by which to implement the synthesis activities and a better understanding of the level of effort and resources required to undertake this activity.

Phase II - Implementation: During this phase, the consultant will work with a dedicated KIX team member to undertake to co-create the synthesis products (such as synthesis reports or briefs). The consultant will need to analyse the findings that have emerged across the KIX-funded projects that focus on OOSC and synthesize the findings and insights. This phase may require the consultant to undertake activities such as data collection, document review, additional key informant interviews, data analysis and other synthesis activities (i.e. surveys, report writing, editing, etc.). During this phase, the KIX Team will start making decisions about how the final synthesis products will be packaged for its intended audiences.

Phase III – Packaging, quality control, and dissemination: By this phase of the synthesis activities, the consultant should, in collaboration with the KIX Team start planning out how to package and deliver the results of the synthesis. In past IDRC teams, synthesis products have included 4-page synthesis briefs, a series of synthesis reports, and recorded presentations on the results, among others. During this phase, the consultant will develop a dissemination plan in consultation with the KIX Team.

The communications preferences of the key audiences should lead the development of the final synthesis products and the channels through which these products are disseminated. Small sub-contracts with editors and graphic designers will likely need to be established to enhance the presentation of the final outputs. Depending on the main languages used in the program, there will need to be sufficient time budgeted to translate the final products and to assess the quality of the translations, so they are accessible to a wider audience.

Given that the projects that will take part in this synthesis will complete their projects in December 2023, the final synthesis products will need to be updated to reflect final findings prior to dissemination. Once the final synthesis products are complete, the KIX Team supported by the consultant will implement the dissemination plan.

2.4.2 Required Knowledge and Skills of the Consultant

The consultant should demonstrate skills and experience in the following areas:

Research and Analysis

- Strong research and analytical skills.
- Proven data analysis skills.
- Proven experience synthesizing evidence on international education.

Knowledge of OOSC and international education:

- Excellent knowledge of the challenges and educational options for children and youth who are out of school.
- Proven experience working with stakeholders in low- and middle-income countries on the topic of international education.

Advisory

- Demonstrated experience undertaking scoping studies for multi-million-dollar initiatives.
- Recognized experience providing recommendations on complex synthesis projects.

Language

- Strong written and spoken communication skills in English and French.
- A working proficiency in Spanish is an asset.

2.4.3 Timeline and Deliverables

The timeline for this project is the following:

- Phase I: Stock taking on KIX Out of School Children Projects and the Landscape - Deliverable is a comprehensive synthesis plan: September 2022 - November 2022
- Phase III: Implementation (Synthesis activities, report and identification of product types) December 2022 - October 2023
- Phase III: Packaging and Dissemination (Final synthesis products and Dissemination plan) complete: November 2023 - January 2024

2.4.4 Project Budget

A maximum budget of $50,000 CAD will be attributed to this project. Additional synthesis activities and events may be directly supported by the KIX program, in addition to this budget.

2.5 IDRC RESPONSIBILITIES, SUPPORT, AND REPRESENTATIVES

Without changing the intent of this RFP or the Lead Proponent's proposal, IDRC will enter into discussions with the Lead Proponent for the purpose of finalizing the Contract.

In the event no satisfactory Contract can be negotiated between the Lead Proponent and IDRC, IDRC may terminate negotiations. In such event, if IDRC feels that the Proponent with the second highest score may meet the requirements, IDRC will continue the process with the secondary Proponent, and so on.
